If this maximum is exceeded by a Candidate's selection he will be required to indicate one of his subjects, the marks for which should, in his case, be reduced so as to bring his maximum marks within the prescribed limit. The marks so reduced will be subject to a correspondingly reduced deduction.

Moreover, if a Candidate's handwriting is not easily legible a further deduction will, on that account, be made from the total marks otherwise accruing to him (a).

5. A list of the competitors shall be made out in order of their proficiency as disclosed by the aggregate marks finally awarded to each competitor, and in that order so many competitors up to the determined number of appointments, as are found by the Civil Service Commissioners to be qualified by examination, shall be designated to be Selected Candidates for the Civil Service of India, provided that they appear to be duly qualified in other respects. In this Examination, as in the Open Competition, the merit of the Candidates examined will be estimated by marks (which will be subject to deductions in the same way as the marks assigned at the Open Competition), and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it. The Examination will be conducted on paper and viva voce, as may be deemed necessary. This Examination will be held at the close of the year of probation, and will be called the "Final Examination."

If any candidate is prevented by sickness or any other adequate cause from attending such examination the Commissioners may, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State for India in Council, allow him to appear at the Final Examination to be held in the following year, or at a special examination.

7. The selected Candidates will also be tested during their probation as to their proficiency in Riding.

The examinations in riding will be held as follows:—

(1) Shortly after the result of the Open Competitive Examination has been declared, or at such time or times as the Commissioners may appoint during the course of the probationary year.

(2) Again, at the time of the Final Examination. Candidates who may then fully satisfy the Commissioners of their ability to ride well and to perform journeys on horseback will be awarded from 100 to 200 marks, according to the degree of proficiency displayed, to be added to their marks in the Final Examination. Candidates who fail to obtain 100 marks, but are reported by the Civil Service Commissioners to have reached a minimum standard of proficiency in riding, and are certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, will, on their arrival in India, be subjected to such further tests in riding as may be prescribed by their Government, and shall receive no increase to their initial salary until they have passed such tests to the satisfaction of that Government.

A Candidate who fails at the end of the year of probation to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners that he has reached the minimum standard of proficiency in riding, will be liable to have his name removed from the list of Selected Candidates.

8. The selected Candidates who, on examination, shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in Regulation 6, and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of nationality, age, health, character, conduct during the period of probation, and ability to ride, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, provided they shall comply with the regulations in force, at the time, for that Service.

9. Persons desirous to be admitted as Candidates must apply on Forms, which may be obtained from "The Secretary to the Civil Service Commissioners, London," at any time after the 1st December, in the year previous to that in which the Examination is to be held. No person will be admitted to the Examination from whom the Secretary to the Civil Service Commissioners has not received on or before the 1st June (or, if that date should fall on a Sunday or public holiday, then, on or before the first day thereafter on which their office is open), in the year in which the examination is to be held, an application in the handwriting of the Candidate, on the prescribed form.

† These subjects may not be offered by any Candidate who has offered them at the Open Competition.

The Civil Service Commissioners are authorized by the Secretary of State for India in Council to make the following announcements:—

(i) Selected Candidates will be allotted to the various provinces upon a consideration of all the circumstances, including their own wishes; but the requirements of the Public Service will rank before every other consideration.

(ii) An allowance amounting to £150 will be given to any Candidate who passes his probation at one of the Universities or Colleges which have been approved by the Secretary of State, viz., the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, Dublin, Glasgow, Edinburgh, St. Andrews, Aberdeen and London (University College or King's College); Victoria University, Manchester.

This allowance will be paid to the selected Candidate in four instalments on the following dates respectively:—December 24th, after his selection, March 25th, June 24th, and the date of his signing his covenant on being finally appointed to the service.

With the final instalment an allowance on account of passage to India will be paid to each newly appointed civilian to the amount of £37 10s. for passage to Calcutta, Madras or Bombay, and £43 for passage to Rangoon, the Officer then making his own arrangements for his passage.

The payment of each of the first three instalments will be conditional on the receipt, by the Secretary of State, through the Civil Service Commissioners, of a certificate that the Candidate has fulfilled up to date the requirements of the Authorities, and shown satisfactory conduct at the Authorized University or College; the fourth and final instalment will be paid as soon as the selected Candidate has signed his covenant, and for its payment no certificate from College Authorities will be required.

The whole probation must ordinarily be passed at the same Institution. Migration will not be permitted except for special reasons approved by the Secretary of State.

(iii) Each Candidate will be required before receiving the first instalment of his allowance to execute an agreement binding himself and one surety jointly and severally to refund all monies he may have received from the Secretary of State for India in the event of—

(1) his failure to pass the Final Examination within the time prescribed by the Regulations, and to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners of his fitness for admission to the Civil Service of India, or

(2) his subsequent failure to execute the usual covenant, and to proceed to India, as and when he shall be directed by the Secretary of State for India.

(iv) All Candidates obtaining Certificates will be also required to enter into covenants, by which, amongst other things, they will bind themselves to make such payments as under the rules and regulations for the time being in force, they may be required to make towards their own pensions or for the pensions of their families. The stamps payable on these covenants amount to £1.

(v) The seniority in the Civil Service of India of the Candidates obtaining Certificates will be determined according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the combined marks of the Open Competitive and Final Examinations.

(vi) Candidates obtaining Certificates will be required to report their arrival in India within such period after the grant of their Certificates of Qualification as the Secretary of State may in each case direct.

(vii) Candidates who fail to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners at the Final Examination held in any year will be definitely rejected, and will not be allowed to present themselves for re-examination, unless it shall appear to the Secretary of State in Council, after reference to the Civil Service Commissioners, that such failure is due to circumstances wholly exceptional and beyond the control of the Candidate.

In view of the importance of legible handwriting in the public service, candidates are warned that the provision as to deductions for bad handwriting in these competitions will be strictly enforced.

In the one Candidates will be expected to show a general acquaintance with the course of English Literature, as represented in the chief writers in verse and prose, between the reign of Edward III and the death of Queen Victoria.

A minute and detailed knowledge will not be looked for in this part of the Examination. But its aim will be to test how far the Candidates have studied at first-hand the chief productions of the greatest English writers, and are acquainted with the leading characteristics of their thought and style, and with the place which each of them occupies in the history of English Literature.

The other part of the Examination will relate to one of the following periods which will follow each other year by year in rotation:—

Period I: 1360 to 1600, Chaucer to Spenser
Period II: 1600 to 1660, The later Elizabethans.

The examination in this part will require from the Candidates a more minute acquaintance with the history of the English Language and Literature, as illustrated in the chief works produced in each period, and will be based to a considerable extent, but by no means exclusively, on certain books specified each year by the Commissioners. The names and other indications placed beside the dates are intended to suggest the general character of the literary development of the period, and, consequently, the natural limits of the Examination. All the works of Shakespeare and Milton, for example, will be regarded as falling within the period 1600 to 1660; all the works of Wordsworth and Coleridge within the period 1800 to 1832; all the works of Carlyle, Landor and Macaulay within the period 1832 to 1892.

The World with fuller treatment of India (Longman's Geographical Series for India, Book II).

J. F. Unstead ... The Practical Geography, Parts I and II.

The following book is recommended for the use of teachers in connection with the teaching of "Sand Modelling" in the lower classes of schools :—

A. E. Frye ... ... The Child and Nature.

Every school that intends to undertake instruction in Geography for the Matriculation Examination is required to possess the apparatus mentioned in the following list :—

I.—The total cost need not exceed Rs. 150—

1. A measuring tape.
2. A magnetic compass.
3. Squared paper and tracing paper.
4. Clay, dry sand, paper pulp or plasticine for modelling.
5. A globe, not less than 14 inches in diameter, with writing surface, and with lines of latitude and longitude, and outlines only of the land-masses, marked upon it.
6. A map of the school locality on a scale of 4" or 6" = 1 mile.
7. A map of the district in which the school is situated on the scale 1" = 1 mile.
8. A map of the Division in which the school is situated on the scale 1" = 4 miles.
9. A map of the Province.
10. A map of India.

(N.B.—All these maps should be coloured to indicate the height of the land above sea-level.)

11. A relief map of India.
12. Maps of India showing the most important distributions, e.g., Temperature and Rainfall, Density of Population, Forest, Pasture, and Agricultural land, Minerals, Industries, Railways and Canals, Political Divisions.
13. Physical maps of the continents and of the British Isles.

It is essential that the students should be provided with atlases, or with the necessary hand-maps Maps for school work should not contain too much detail, or be crowded with names.

II.—The following additional equipment is recommended when it can be provided :—

1. A wet and dry bulb thermometer.
2. A barometer.
3. A rain gauge.
4. A large globe coloured to indicate land relief and ocean depths.
5. A relief globe.
6. Small hand globes for the use of pupils.
7. Hand maps for use in class.
*8. A relief map of the Province.
9. A map of the World on Mollweide's equal area projection.
10. A geological map of India.
11. A small collection of typical rocks, in particular those of the Province and of India.
12. A small museum of typical products.
13. The Statistical Atlas of India.
14. A good standard atlas.
15. A meteorological atlas.
16. Mill's International Geography.
17. A geographical gazetteer.
18. Geographical wall pictures.

The total cost of this supplementary equipment need not exceed Rs. 400, and can be reduced if schools will make their own collections of rocks and typical products.

III. (1) Valuable information regarding geographical equipment and all other matters connected with the teaching of geography is to be found in the Geographical Teacher, the organ of the Geographical Association, published three times a year, at one shilling a copy.

(2) Globes of all kinds are made by George Philip and Son, London, W. and A. K. Johnston, London, and Messrs. Ruddiman Johnston, London.

* The attention of teachers is requested to the raised maps of Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam made of paper pulp prepared by Babu Kailas Chandra Datta, Head Pandit, Habiganj Government Girls' School, Sylhet, and sold for Rs. 7 and Rs. 5, respectively.

Small hand Globes of German make can be obtained through the Calcutta School Book Society for about a rupee each.

(3) The "Comparative" series of large wall maps of the continents published by George Philip and Son is good and up to date; so also are the Orographical wall maps published by Edward Stanford. Messrs. Ruddiman Johnston publish a series of smaller wall maps which includes maps of India illustrating various distributions.

Messrs. Nelson's wall atlases are good. Mr. S. B. Chatterjee publishes District maps; also ordinary and relief maps of the Province.

Babu L. M. Basu, the drawing master of the Dacca Collegiate School, has published good relief maps of Eastern Bengal and Assam and of India.

The Vidal-Lablache French wall maps on strong card board, named on one side, and the same map without names on the reverse, published by Armand Colin, Paris, are good and cheap. They measure 46 inches by 39 inches and can be delivered in Calcutta for Rs. 4-14 each.

(4) The hand maps, coloured to indicate relief, published by the Diagram Company West Barnes Lane, New Malden Surrey, at one penny each, are the best of their kind.

The uncoloured half-penny maps, showing river systems and a few towns, published by the same Company, are excellent for class use.

The Autograph hand maps, with hill shading in brown, published by Edward Stanford London, at one penny each, are very good and are larger than the Diagram Company's hand maps. The 15 inches map of the world on Mollweide's equal area projection is especially to be commended.

(5) Wall pictures of considerable artistic merit are published by Messrs. Edward Arnold of Leeds, Messrs. Hachette of Paris, and Messrs. Hölzel of Vienna. They cost, delivered in India, from two to three rupees each.

Map lantern slides, and view slides especially prepared for geography teaching, are sold by the Diagram Company for two or three shillings each.

6. The best meteorologic l atlas published in Britain is Bartholomew's, and the most recent geographical gazetteer in English is that published by J. B. Lippincott of Philadelphia and London.

ELEMENTARY MECHANICS.

The following book is recommended:—

Sir Philip Magnus ... Elementary Mechanics (Longmans 1903).

The following list of apparatus is prescribed as indicating the approximate requirements of a recognised High School seeking to teach Elementary Mechanics for the Matriculation Examination:—

Simple Lever (including brass slotted weights).
Roman Steelyard.
Lecture apparatus for experiments on moments.
George's New Atwood's Machine
Stop-watch.
Glazebrooke's apparatus (to demonstrate movement of a body).
Hick's Ballistic Balance.
Compound Wheel and Axle.

Inclined Plane.
Parallelogram of Forces apparatus.
Wall Crane.
Becker's New Physical Balance.
Set of Gramme Weights (200 grams to 1 mgr.)
2 Composition-Ivory Balls.

NOTE.—The above list is not exhaustive, and much of it might be replaced by simpler forms that could probably be made far more cheaply by any clever mistry under proper supervision. In most cases, however, it will probably be found advantageous to buy such a set as indicated in the list specially for demonstration purposes, and subsequently to develop simplified duplicates, illustrating the same principles, which the boys should be given opportunity actually to experiment with on their own individual accounts or working in pairs.

Letter No. 2271-18, dated the 24th March 1911, from the Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry, forwarding copies of the Despatch of the 22nd December 1910, to the Secretary of State, and the Despatch of the 24th February 1911, from the Secretary of State, sanctioning the permanent arrangements required for the development of fisheries in Bengal.

In the year 1906, Mr. K. G. (now Sir Krishna Govinda) Gupta of the Indian Civil Service was deputed by the Bengal Government to enquire and report on the state of the fisheries in this province and on the possibility of adopting measures for the conservation and development of fisheries on modern and scientific lines. He submitted in 1907-08 two reports,—one on fisheries in Bengal and the other on the results of his enquiry into fishery matters in Europe and America, which have already been made available to the public. In February 1908 Mr. Gupta left India to take up his appointment on the Council of the Secretary of State for India; and Mr. A. Ahmad, a Statutory Civilian, was appointed to carry on the work under the designation of the Commissioner of Fisheries.

2. In these reports Mr. Gupta furnished a mass of information and put forward various recommendations. The conclusions which the Lieutenant-Governor formed on these reports were that, as regards the estuaries and open sea, it was necessary for Government to lead the way, to ascertain the localities in which fishing would be profitable and to determine the methods on which they could best be conducted. As regards fresh water fisheries, on the other hand, no new methods were needed, and it was held that the work of the Local Government should be confined to artificial propagation, combined perhaps with a system of short close seasons and other protective measures. To give effect to these views, it was decided to obtain a steam trawler for the marine enquiries, to engage the services of a fishery expert and to depute two selected students,—one to Europe to study the curing of fish, marine hatcheries and carp culture (the carp family being represented in Bengal by the rahu, katla, and other important species); and the other to America for instruction in the culture of shad, of which family the hilsa is a member. The following progress has been made under these three lines of action.

3. Survey of the estuaries and open sea.—The steam trawler Golden Crown was brought out in April 1908 and was placed in charge of Mr. G. Mann, a trawling captain from Hull, with four European trawling experts. The steam trawler made 28 voyages between June 1908 and December 1909. The results of the marine survey conducted by the trawler indicate that there are large areas in the Bay of Bengal in which trawling is possible; that the Bay will yield an ample supply of fish; and that the catches can be put on the Calcutta market in good condition. It has been supposed that the intention was to prove, by actual results, that deep sea-fishing can be commercially successful; but the intention of the survey was to explore every portion of the Bay, and to ascertain what fish are to be found, at what seasons and in what quantities. Dr. J. T. Jenkins who was appointed Fishery Adviser to Government, in October 1908, has examined the results in his report entitled "Marine Fishery Investigations." The reports on the working of the trawler were made public at the time; and the papers connected with the fisheries of the Bay of Bengal have recently been collected and reprinted in pamphlet form, which can be bought at the price of four annas. The illustrative chart which accompanies that reprint shows which are the best fishing banks in the Bay. This information is now at the disposal of the public, and it is for those who have the capital and enterprise to devise the best type of vessels for Indian trade; their equipment; and the most satisfactory method of bringing fish to market. The experiment carried out by means of the Golden Crown has demonstrated that trawling in the Bay is possible throughout the year, and that with proper care fish keep fresh in the ice-hold for an indefinite period.

4. In connection with the investigation of estuarine fisheries, special enquiries were made by Dr. Jenkins in the Sunderbans tract. Under this head, a certain amount of information has been collected, but much remains to be done. It has, however, been demonstrated that in that tract there are breeding grounds of fish and that it abounds in edible fish and crustacea.

5. On the scientific side, specimens of the fish, crustacea, molluscs and echinoderms caught in different parts of the Bay of Bengal have been, and are being, classified and identified under the auspices of the authorities of the Indian Museum. The Government of Bengal are especially indebted to Dr. N. Annandale, D.Sc., C.M.Z.S., for his labours in connection with this scientific investigation.

6. Inland fisheries.—The problem in the case of the inland fishing industry has resolved itself into (i) protection of fisheries by legislative measures and (ii) pisciculture. But it appears impossible to prohibit the sale of fry captured in the rivers or to legislate for the protection of the various species of fish, until arrangements have been made for the restocking of ponds and tanks in the various parts of the Province and a proper knowledge has been acquired of the habits of fresh water species. Two students, Mr. Bepin Behari Das, M.A., and Mr. Saiyid Muhammad Mohsin, were sent abroad in 1908 to Europe and America, respectively. The former was deputed to make a special study of carp culture, as carried on in the continent of Europe, and to learn practical fish-curing and allied matters connected with the fishing industry at the fishing centres of the United Kingdom. Mr. Mohsin was sent to the United States of America with a view to study the practical working of the shad hatcheries. Since their return to India in 1909, the two fishery scholars have been employed in investigations with regard to the breed of rahu and other members of the carp family and with regard to the location of the spawning grounds of hilsa. Mr. Ahmad, in addition to his duties in connection with the control of the marine survey and of these special enquiries, conducted experiments in fish curing and in the extraction of by-products. The Government of India in this connection have sanctioned the grant of a rebate of duty on salt used for fish-curing purposes, subject to the condition that the concessionaires should pay for the cost of the preventive establishment that might be necessary and that the rebate allowed should not exceed the duty payable on the salt used. The issue of the duty-free salt has also been sanctioned for the benefit of the fishermen on the coasts of this province who may be engaged in the fish-curing industry. A Fishery Board was also constituted in October 1908, consisting of certain Government officials and representatives of the commercial community and the land owners of the Province, whose functions were mainly to advise and assist the officer in charge of the operations and to stimulate public interest in matters concerning fisheries.

7. In January 1910 the work connected with the fisheries enquiry was, in accordance with the precedent of most European countries, placed under the control of the Director of Agriculture. In March 1910, the report of Mr. Ahmad on his work for the previous two years was submitted, and in August 1910 proposals were submitted to the Government of India for the organisation of the Fishery Department. It was realised that the work must proceed slowly and will take several years to develop, and that for the present it may be supervised by the Director of Agriculture; but it appeared to the Bengal Government that the Director should have the assistance of a European expert with the scientific and practical experience not only to supply the necessary element of technical knowledge, but to control the operations under the supervision of the Director. Accordingly, an application was made to the Government of India for the appointment of an expert on Rs. 600—50—800, to be styled the Deputy Director of Fisheries. The proposals of this Government were accepted by the Government of India and the Secretary of State; and Mr. T. Southwell, who is an A. R. C. Sc., in Zoology, and is at present employed as the Scientific Adviser and Inspector of Pearl Banks to the Ceylon Company of Pearl Fisheries, Limited, has been selected to hold the appointment. Mr. Southwell is expected to join his duties this month. Under the Deputy Director of Fisheries there are to be two Superintendents on salaries of Rs. 250—10—400. Mr. Das has already been confirmed in one of the appointments with retrospective effect from 15th January 1910, and Mr. Mohsin has just been confirmed in the other appointment. In addition to this, the Director has power to appoint four zoological students and other suitable officers on Rs. 75 a month to assist the Superintendents of Fisheries in their enquiries. This establishment is the nucleus of the permanent Fishery Department which is considered necessary in order to control hatcheries, to introduce and maintain regulations, and to encourage the development of the fish supply of the Province.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council,

J. G. CUMMING,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Memorandum No. 799-236, dated the 3rd August 1911, and enclosures, from the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Department, forwarding copy of Despatch to the Secretary of State, No. 92, dated the 30th March 1911, and proposition statement recommending the scheme submitted by this Government.

In their letter No. 11—81-1A., dated the 8th April 1905, the Government of India informed Local Governments that, from the year 1905-06, a sum of Rs. 20 lakhs would be annually provided in the budget for the improvement of agriculture (including the Veterinary Department), and asked this Government to report in general outline the manner in which it desired to develop its Agricultural Department as constituted at that time, the approximate cost, both initial and recurring, of the change, how far it was possible to meet the additional expenditure from its own resources, and what assistance it desired from the grant of 20 lakhs. At the same time, the Government of India forwarded copies of notes by the Inspector-General of Agriculture and the Inspector-General of the Civil Veterinary Department containing suggestions as to the lines on which these departments should be developed, and drew special attention to the suggestion of the Inspector-General of Agriculture that the Agricultural Department should form the sole charge of a Civilian officer who should also be in charge of agricultural schools and colleges independently of the Education Department or at least jointly with that Department.

2. At this date the Province of Bengal still included the districts which have since been transferred to Eastern Bengal and Assam, and the Director of Land Records was in charge of the Agricultural Department in addition to his other duties. He was assisted by one European Deputy Director of Agriculture, two Assistant Directors and four travelling Inspectors.

There was no separate Agricultural College; but the Sibpur Engineering College had Agricultural classes and trained Agricultural students. The Department maintained three* farms and supervised five† others, three belonging to private individuals, one belonging to the Court of Wards, and one belonging to the Khas Mahal Fund.

*1. Cuttack.
2. Rajshahi.
3. Rangpur.

†1. Burdwan.
2. Dumraon.
3. Gouripur (Mymensingh).
4. Siripur (Hathwa).
5. Chittagong (Khas Mahal Fund).

2. As regards this Province the proposals for the development of the Agricultural Department and the establishment necessary for the purpose were first submitted to the Government of India in this Government's letter No. 529T.—R., dated the 3rd May 1905. The Government of India cordially approved of the scheme thus outlined and made an annual grant of 3½ lakhs out of the 20 lakhs allotted by the Secretary of State for the improvement of agriculture. A prolonged correspondence ensued, however, regarding the details of the establishment to be maintained. The final orders of the Secretary of State have now been communicated by the Government of India with their memorandum No. 780—236-1, dated the 28th July 1911.

4. During the interval between the letter of the Government of India of the 8th April 1905 and the final orders sanctioning the revised scheme submitted with this Government's letter No. 2453, dated the 22nd August 1910, the development of the Agricultural Department has steadily progressed as far as the financial resources of the province and the expert agency available would permit. A whole-time officer of the Imperial Civil Service was appointed to be in charge of the Agricultural Department in October 1905. Additions were made to the departmental staff provisionally. The College staff noted on the margin was sanctioned by the Secretary of State in his despatch No. 17, dated the 26th January 1906; and the members joined their duties in India on the dates noted against each. A fully equipped Agricultural College was established at Sabour, and was ready for the admission of students in November 1910, when 20 students were admitted, of whom five came from Eastern Bengal and Assam. The total number of candidates for admission exceeded 1,000. The first batch of graduates available for employment will pass out in June 1914.

	Date of joining
Principal, Agricultural College, Rs. 500—1,000, plus Rs. 100 allowance	17th Nov. 1906.
Agricultural Chemist, Rs. 500—1,000	23rd „ 1907.
Economic Botanist, Rs. 400—1,000	20th „ „

5. Four students were sent to America in 1905 for agricultural training. Of these, three were provided with appointments on a provisional pay of Rs. 150 each; and the fourth has been employed by the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam. The second batch of two students was sent to America in 1906. Neither of these is in Government service. Two other students were sent to America in 1907. One of these is now the Superintendent of the Home Farm at Sabour, and the other has not received an appointment under Government.

6. Of the farms mentioned in paragraph 2, those at Rajshahi, Rangpur, Gouripur in Mymensingh, and Chittagong are now in the Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam. The Burdwan, Dumraon and Siripur farms belong to this province. Of these, the first two only are now managed by the department. New experimental farms have been opened since 1905 at Chinsura and Bankipore, and there is also a Home Farm in connection with the Sabour Agricultural College. An experimental farm has also been opened in the Government estate, Angul. It is in charge of an overseer trained at the Cuttack experimental station, and the funds necessary for its maintenance are supplied from the budget of the Agricultural Department. Another experimental farm is about to be opened at Suri by the local Agricultural Association with the help, and under the supervision, of the department. A tassar farm for the rearing of healthy tassar cocoons was opened at Chaibassa in April 1906; but it had to be closed in May 1911, as it was found impossible to grow healthy seed there.

A sum of Rs. 5,000 is annually contributed for the maintenance of the Kalimpong Farm which is managed by the St. Andrew's Colonial Homes under the supervision of the department.

7. It is proposed, as any crop or method of cultivation is proved at an experimental farm to be a success, to open small temporary "demonstration" farms at suitable centres for the purpose of introducing such crops or improved methods of cultivation to the local cultivators. No such farm has yet been opened by Government, but a demonstration farm of 50 acres has been opened by a member of the Sambalpur Agricultural Association, which is managed by a trained overseer who works under the supervision of the department and whose services have been placed at the owner's disposal free of cost.

8. The dissemination of a knowledge of scientific agriculture as applied in practice through the instrumentality of fairs and shows has been brought under a regular system. Each year about twenty-seven shows are visited; a carefully collected series of exhibits are sent; and the exhibits are explained by an officer of the department to audiences at the shows. Demonstrations of implements and approved methods of cultivation have been given at these shows, including magic-lantern lectures.

9. Agricultural Associations have now been formed in every division and at almost every district headquarters. A trained Inspector has been placed at the disposal of every Divisional Association to help the members of Divisional and District Associations in demonstrating agricultural improvements and preparing their programmes of work. A grant of Rs. 1,000 is annually made to each Divisional Association for its own use and the use of its District Associations. The Provincial Association receives an allotment of Rs. 4,000 per annum and lays down the general lines on which work is to be carried on by the Divisional and District Associations. The Director of Agriculture is ex-officio Secretary to the Provincial Association.

10. An Agricultural Journal is published quarterly by the Director of Agriculture with the assistance of the officers of the department. The journal is supplied free of cost to the Agricultural Associations Its usefulness is appreciated; and the number of subscribers is slowly increasing. Leaflets are issued every year in English as well as the vernacular languages, explaining in detail the merits of important experiments and the means of combating insect-pests.

11. A seed-store for the supply of improved varieties of seeds, implements and manures has been opened since the 1st February 1906. Similar stores are about to be opened at Sabour and Chinsura to meet the increasing demand for reliable articles recommended by the department.

12. The complete scheme now sanctioned, including the posts previously sanctioned, in some cases temporarily, is shown in the annexed statement. It provides for six appointments in the superior service, including those of the Director of Agriculture, who is a Civilian, and his Personal Assistant. The remaining four appointments are classed in the Imperial Agricultural Service; namely, the Deputy Director of Agriculture, and three posts on the staff of the Agricultural College, a Professor of Agriculture, an Agricultural Chemist and an Economic Botanist, the last of whom is Principal of the College in addition to his other duties.

The Provincial and Upper Subordinate Services comprise 23 appointments, of which 10 are for the college, and the remaining 13 are for executive work.

13. The appointments, noted on the margin, in the existing cadre have been abolished in consequence of the scheme sanctioned. Of these, the first two are not included in the scheme; while the third represents the post of the Superintendent, Chaibassa Tassar Farm, which has been abolished.

The students trained in America will, under express orders, be entitled to the rate of pay now sanctioned for them with retrospective effect from the date noted against each. Mr. S. K Basu, who is a Master of Arts of the Cambridge University, has been allowed the benefit of the new scheme from the date of the Secretary of State's order, 30th June 1911. It has been decided to keep Babu Debabrata Mukharji and Mr. B. M. Chatarji on probation for some time longer; and the question of their confirmation and of the date from which they will be entitled to the increased rate of pay will be taken into consideration on receipt of a further report from the Principal of the College and the Deputy Director of Agriculture. Babu Manmotho Nath Ghosh and Babu Gourhari Mukharji are still on probation. As regards the remaining members of the Provincial and Upper Subordinate Services, they would ordinarily be entitled to the increased rate of pay from the 30th June 1911. But the actual date will be fixed in each case by the Director, in consultation with the local officers of the department. As a special case, the Superintendent, Seed Store, will be given a personal allowance of Rs. 50 in addition to his grade pay of Rs. 50 until the allowance is absorbed. A personal allowance of Rs. 25 has been sanctioned for the blacksmith fitter at Sabour by Government order No. 750, dated the 15th February 1911.

ORDER.—Ordered that the above Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

REPORT ON PUBLIC INSTRUCTION IN BENGAL FOR 1910-11.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Dated Calcutta, the 4th December 1911.

RESOLUTION—No. 4613.

READ—

The Report on Public Instruction in Bengal for 1910-11.

The Report on Public Instruction in Bengal for the year 1910-11 is published for general information In accordance with the orders of the Government of India, the report is confined to a general summary of the salient features of the year's work, information of a more elaborate nature being reserved for the quinquennial reports.

2. The Director of Public Instruction has called attention to the fact that the scheme for providing new laboratories for the Patna College has now been in suspense for six years The question has received the careful consideration of Government on more than one occasion, but it has not yet been found possible to allot funds for the work. The scheme for the improvement of the Patna College, which was framed in 1905, included a large number of items, and during the last six years, a sum of Rs. 1,66,300 has been allotted for Government educational buildings in Patna and Bankipore, almost entirely in connection with the College. It would therefore not have been possible, having regard to the claims of the rest of the province, to provide the further sum of over a lakh required for the new college laboratories. The matter has not been lost sight of, and the work will be taken in hand as soon as funds can be made available with due regard to the claims of other projects.

3. The thanks of Government are due to Mr. Küchler for his careful administration of the Department during the year, and for his concise and interesting summary, which clearly indicates the steady progress of all branches of educational work in Bengal. The Lieutenant-Governor in Council does not propose on the present occasion to review the work in detail, as he will have an opportunity of doing so on receipt of the Director's report for the quinquennium ending the 31st March 1912, which will be presented next year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council,

J. G. CUMMING,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

REPORT ON PUBLIC INSTRUCTION IN BENGAL FOR 1910-11.

GENERAL SUMMARY OF THE SALIENT FEATURES OF THE YEAR 1910-11.*

The year's expansion.

1. The year under report saw an increase of 900 educational institutions and of about 43,000 pupils. Expenditure increased by about 10 lakhs, 7·9 per cent. of which was contributed from public funds, and 92·1 per cent. from private sources, such as fees, subscriptions, etc. During the year 1910-11, 32·6 per cent. of boys and 4·3 per cent. of girls of school-going age attended school as against 33·2 per cent. of boys and 4·3 per cent. of girls in the preceding year. These statistics represent a substantial increase in the numbers under instruction, as last year's figures were based on the census of 1901 and this year's on that of 1911.

Reconciliation of departmental figures with those furnished by the Accountant-General, Bengal.

2 The budget grant for the year 1910-11 under "22—Education" was Rs. 59,17,000, and the actual expenditure reported by the Accountant-General, Bengal, amounted to Rs. 55,21,384. Out of this Rs. 5,88,810 represents Government contribution to District Boards for education, and Rs. 6,84,518 fees, etc., in Government institutions. The net departmental expenditure from Provincial revenues thus stands at Rs. 42,48,056, to which is to be added Rs. 2,31,596 for the Medical College, Rs. 91 439 for medical schools, and Rs. 4,62,620 on account of educational buildings, which was spent through the Public Works Department; and the total works out at Rs. 50,33,711, which is Rs. 17,436 in excess of the grand total Rs 50,16,275) in column 34 of General Table IV. Steps will be taken to reconcile this small difference in consultation with the Accountant General, Bengal.

The Educational Services.

3. There were 3 additions to the cadre of the Indian Educational Service due to the creation of 2 Professorships for the David Hare Training College and to the inclusion in the Indian Educational Service of the post of Professor of Mining Engineering of the Civil Engineering College. The number of appointments in the service thus rose to 47.

4. Four new appointments were created in the Provincial Educational Service: 1 on account of the Professor of Chemistry for the Ravenshaw College, 1 for a Professor of English for the Sanskrit College and 2 for Additional Professorships of English for the Presidency College. The Provincial Educational Service appointment for the Inspector of Hostels and Messes in Calcutta was, however, abolished. The number of appointments in the Provincial Educational Service, therefore, rose by 3 to 112.

5. Fifteen new appointments were created in the Subordinate Educational Service mostly in lieu of temporary ungraded appointments which had previously existed. Five Subordinate Educational Service appointments previously existing for the Serampore Weaving Institute were, on the other hand, replaced by ungraded appointments The strength of the Subordinate Educational Service, therefore, rose by 10 appointments to 820

6. Two new appointments were created in the Lower Subordinate Educational Service and 1 was abolished. The strength of the service, therefore, rose by only 1 appointment to 760. Government has already decided on the abolition of the Lower Subordinate Educational Service, and proposals in this regard will shortly be submitted.

The inspecting agency.

7. Financial considerations prevented the introduction during the year of the scheme which was administratively sanctioned in April 1909 for providing the Tirhut Division with a separate superior inspecting staff. The number of superior inspecting officers for the Province, therefore, remained unaltered. But the proposals about the redistribution of existing Additional Inspectors so as to post them to the divisions where high schools are most numerous were submitted to Government during the year These proposals have since been sanctioned. Under the new arrangement there is no Additional Inspector in the Bhagalpur, Chota Nagpur, or Orissa Division.

* The present summarised statement of the year's work is in conformity with the orders of Government, viz., that the annual report should be confined to the annual statistical tables with a general summary of the salient features of the year, on the lines of the general summary to be found in the majority of recent reports.

8. There was no change in the special inspecting staff for the supervision of Muhammadan education.

9. Orders were passed during the year for the transference of all Deputy (35), additional Deputy (25), and Sub-Inspectors (310), including those recently provincialized, to a separate cadre. Definite proposals in this regard will shortly be submitted to Government.

Collegiate Education.

10. While the number of Arts colleges remained stationary, the number of students attending them increased by 1,164. A feature of the year's working is that an increase of Rs. 1,04,371 is recorded under the head of fees, while the increase of expenditure from Provincial revenues amounted to Rs. 46,117.

11. The question of the proper residence of students continues to be a source of anxiety. The Calcutta Mess Scheme cannot at best be regarded as any more than a makeshift arrangement. Happily, however, the matter has attracted the attention of the Government of India, and after the close of the year under review a considerable sum of money was placed at the disposal of the Government of Bengal for the provision of hostels for students.

12. The year is memorable for the great advance made with the extension scheme of the Presidency College. A special Committee was appointed by Government to give final shape to the scheme of extension, the original draft of which was submitted in 1908. It has not yet completed its labours, but the main lines on which the project will proceed have been laid down, and with the help of the special grant of Rs. 8,00,000 from the Government of India, a substantial portion of the Committee's recommendations will soon be carried into practical effect. The new laboratory building for Physics, Physiology, Botany, and Geology will, it is hoped, be completed by July 1912.

13. The scheme for providing new laboratories for the Patna College has now been in suspense for six years, and I would commend the matter to the special consideration of Government.

Secondary Education for Indian boys.

14. The number of secondary schools of all classes for Indian boys increased by 32, or 2·1 per cent., while the number of pupils attending them increased by 11,980, or 7·2 per cent. The increase in the number of schools is due mainly to the increase recorded in the number of unaided institutions.

15. The total expenditure on secondary schools for Indian boys amounted during the year to Rs. 30,26,041 as against Rs. 28,99,795 during the preceding year—an increase of about 4·4 per cent.

16. All high schools are now systematically inspected on behalf of the University. The position, however, of many schools under private management is still unsatisfactory in all departments—staff, accommodation and equipment. It is entirely a question of funds, and until these are forthcoming there is little prospect of improvement. The same remarks apply with equal force to the case of middle schools under private management.

17. Particular attention has been paid this year to the systematic teaching of Drawing. The subject is compulsory in all secondary schools organized on the vernacular basis, and is also insisted on in the upper classes of Government and aided high schools.

18. A feature of the work of the year under review has been the laying out of gardens in connection with secondary schools.

19. The question of the residence of schoolboys is receiving special attention in connection with the apportionment of the hostel grant from Imperial revenues.

Primary education for Indian boys.

20. The number of primary schools for boys increased by 233, and the pupils attending them by 6,362. The expenditure also on these schools increased by over half a lakh. The average cost of a primary school was Rs. 82·8 as against Rs. 81·9 in the previous year.

21. In the year under review the total number of pupils receiving primary education, whether in primary, secondary or other schools, was 1,343,786 against 1,312,778 in the year previous. One in every 6 children of school-going age was, therefore, under primary instruction, the school-going population, as recorded by the late census, being 8,253,501.

22. The total cost of imparting primary instruction was Rs. 55,41,592 as against Rs. 49,35,413 in the year before. This shows a substantial increase of Rs. 6,06,179 during the year under review; 41·4 per cent. of the total expenditure was met from public funds and 58·6 per cent. from fees and private sources.

23. Construction of buildings for primary schools showed little progress during the year.

24. The reports on continuation schools continue to be extremely unfavourable, and unless some practical scheme for their improvement can be evolved, they will have to be abolished.

25. There has not been any change in the system of examinations. It has however been decided that endeavours should be made to restore the old Middle School Examination, and the Directors of Public Instruction of other Provinces have been written to regarding the practice prevailing in their jurisdictions.

26. As in the year previous, there were nine Law classes in connection with the Pleadership Examinations, besides the two Law Colleges at Patna and Calcutta. Law Colleges.

27. The total attendance decreased by 152, though there was an increase of 72 students in the Government institutions.

28. The Calcutta University has recently prescribed a three-years' course for the B.L Examination in place of a two-years' course, and the amended regulations have already come into operation.

29. The scheme for the Pleader's Certificate of Proficiency in Surveying came into force in April 1910, and classes for practical instruction of six weeks' duration were opened at the Sibpur Civil Engineering College. For want of students no classes could be opened at the Bihar School of Engineering or at the Cuttack Survey School. The first examination under the scheme will be held in 1912. Pleaders' Survey Examination.

30. The new Professor of Tinctorial Chemistry arrived in November last, and classes for teaching dyeing and chemistry of colouring matters, both synthetic and natural, were opened. Five regular students have been attending lectures and doing practical work in the laboratory, besides two occasional students. The appointment of a Demonstrator in Electrical Engineering and another in Applied Mathematics were sanctioned during the year. Special lectures were given at the college by the Hon'ble Mr. B. K. Finnimore, Chief Engineer to the Government of Bengal, and Mr. M. H. Arnott, Superintending Engineer, Sone Circle. The total expenditure of the college was Rs 2,02,150 against Rs. 2,73,257 last year. The Sibpur Engineering College.

31. In the Mining classes there were 16 students at the beginning of the session; of these, 2 dropped out, leaving 8 in Course I and 6 in Course II. Five students were successful in gaining diplomas.

32. In accordance with the new arrangements sanctioned by Government, the Superintendent of Industries was appointed to the Secretaryship of the Mining Advisory Board, and mufassal Mining classes were opened in four centres, namely, Sijua, Jharia, Charanpur, and Deshergarh.

33. At the sessional examination 50 per cent. of the candidates passed. The Examiners report that the classes are performing a very useful work in the coalfields.

34. The proposal for the improvement of the workshop was approved by Government during the year, and a sum of Rs. 19,000 has been sanctioned for the purchase of new machinery, etc., the expenditure to be spread over three years. Bihar School of Engineering.

35. The new scheme for the reorganization of the Survey Schools at Cuttack and Patna has not yet been introduced for want of funds. Forty-one Survey Final Certificates and 17 Amin Class Certificates were issued in the year under review. Survey Schools.

36. The scheme for providing Orissa with a school of engineering has been kept in abeyance.

37. The Agricultural classes held in connection with certain high schools were abolished last year. "Nature study," however, forms an important part of the curriculum in most schools, and a scheme for awarding medals and diplomas in that subject to pupils in training, middle, and primary schools is under consideration. Agricultural education.

Joint Technical Examination Board.

38. During the year under review Government approved of the revised syllabus for the Sub-Overseer and the Overseer courses and the new rules for the conduct of these examinations.

39. These Overseer and the Sub-Overseer Examinations were conducted by the Board as in the last year. The Secretaryship of the Board was transferred from the Principal, Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, to Dr. Denning, Superintendent of Industries.

The Serampore Weaving Institute.

40. In the year under report the Central Institute passed out its first batch of students from the higher class. Eighteen students appeared at the examination, of whom 12 passed—9 in the first class and 3 in the second. Six of the candidates found employment almost immediately, and of the remainder, two having purchased land with the view of starting a small hand-loom factory, others are willing to follow their example if funds can be raised for the purpose.

41. As regards the Artisan classes, the Principal observes that these have been chiefly manned by local weavers of Serampore, the number of weaving students sent by District Boards having been very small. The majority of the students who passed out have turned the instruction they received at the institute to profitable account.

42. Two new centres have been opened during the year, so that in all there are three outlying centres and a special weaving school at Sambalpur. Proposals have also been made for opening out fresh centres.

43. His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal visited the institution during the year, and was pleased to sanction a grant of Rs. 1,000 towards the nucleus of a library.

Schools of Art.

44. There were on 31st March last 4 Schools of Art,—1 under Government management, and 3 under private control. The Government school had an accession of 47 pupils, but the private institutions lost 9. The Government School of Art is attended not only by students from Bengal, but also by several from Madras, Mysore, Ceylon, the Punjab and the United Provinces. The Principal feels that the school has improved much during the year under report and that the work done has been above the average.

Government Commercial classes.

45. In the year under review Government sanctioned the retention of the Government Commercial classes on a permanent basis, and changed the designation of the classes to "Government Commercial Institute." The Principal reports that the teaching on the whole is comprehensive and that the successful candidates of the institution are everywhere valued.

Training Colleges.

46. The two institutions maintained by Government for the training of English teachers—the David Hare Training College, Calcutta, and the Patna Training College, Bankipore—have now entered upon the fourth year of their existence, and the progress achieved during that period affords ample evidence of the success of the experiment inaugurated in 1908. Measures are now in contemplation for placing them on a sound permanent basis.

47. Teachers in Government schools are now being deputed to one or other of the training colleges on full pay, and arrangements are being made to ensure that all existing teachers (at least those under 45 years of age) will eventually be trained. No teacher is now appointed in the Subordinate Educational Service or the Lower Subordinate Educational Service unless he gives an undertaking to undergo a course of training whenever required on the scale of remuneration that may be sanctioned for the time being.

First grade training schools.

48. The year under review marks an advance in the history of first grade training schools. The second grade training school at Motihari has been raised to the status of a first grade training school. A first grade training school is to be established at Bhagalpur as soon as funds are forthcoming.

49. The scheme for the introduction of a revised course of studies and the extension of the term of training was, with certain reservations, accepted by Government and given effect to from the beginning of the session 1910-11. A system of examinations has been devised to secure that as many of the students as possible shall undertake the full three-years' course,—the grant of the final departmental certificate being conditional upon one year's approved teaching in a recognized school.

50. It is recognized that the scale of stipends given to students under training is much too low, and a definite scheme for improvement in this regard has been submitted to Government.

51. The most satisfactory feature of the history of guru-training schools during the year under report was the transfer of guru-training school buildings and building operations to the Public Works Department. This has relieved the officers of the Department of a work for which they were obviously unfitted owing to lack of professional knowledge. Guru-training schools.

52. The total number of gurus who obtained efficiency certificates in 1910 was 1,342. As was noticed in last year's report, however, a large proportion of the gurus after they have been trained take up more remunerative work than teaching.

53. The question of introducing a common divisional examination for gurus is at present engaging attention.

54. In the year under review the number of girls receiving instruction rose from 167,514 to 173,204. This increase has been shared more or less by almost all classes of institutions. The upper classes of girls' high schools are beginning to attract more pupils, and though fees have in some cases been raised, parents have shown no great opposition to the enhancement. The system of parda examinations has aroused an interest in learning, and the girls under the care of the peripatetic teachers are reported to be growing studious in disposition. Education of Indian girls.

55. Progress in the primary education of girls in village schools is naturally slow owing to the lack of trained teachers, the smallness of salaries, and the prejudices of conservative villagers.

56. The Badshah Nawab Razvi Training College has been working for more than two years, and may now perhaps be said to be safely over the experimental stage. Not only have all the stipends available for both Hindus and Muhammadans been awarded, but there are many candidates, both Hindus and Muhammadans, waiting for vacancies. The first lot of trained students have been sent out, and it is reported that all are willing to go short distances and work as teachers in other districts. The numbers in the hostels have also increased.

57. Miss Brock, Inspectress of Schools in the Presidency, Burdwan, and Orissa Divisions, submitted a report on the working of the Women's Training College, Calcutta, together with her proposals for its extension. These were considered by the Executive Committee of the College, which called for fuller information for submission to Government.

58. In the year under report the Inspector of European Schools, Bengal, assumed the position of General Secretary in this Province for the University of Cambridge Local Examinations, and two centres were recognized for holding these examinations. European schools.

59. Though two schools failed to submit figures, the annual returns show an increase of 200 pupils. The Government institutions experienced a substantial increase. Expenditure increased by Rs. 1,31,901, the increase coming mainly from private sources. In the year under review the municipalities encouraged European education by enhancing their grants from Rs. 2,574 to Rs. 12,348.

60. No High School and Scholarship Examination was held during the year, the old departmental examination having been replaced by the Cambridge Senior Local Examination. For want of qualified and eligible candidates only 6 out of the 8 scholarships of Rs. 20 a month could be awarded. The feature of the Middle School Examination was that not a single candidate succeeded in qualifying for a first class. In the Calcutta University Matriculation Examination there was a further drop in the number of candidates from European schools. The result of the annual examination test of the Government Training Classes for female teachers at Kurseong was satisfactory, as 7 out of the 8 senior students and 11 out of the 12 junior students were successful.

61. Volunteering is reported to be very popular with the boys. Government paid a sum of Rs. 10,190 for cadets last year, as against Rs. 9,128 in the year preceding.

62. The revised and amended Code for European Schools has only been in operation since January last, and it would be premature here to say anything definite about its working.

Muhammadan education.

63. In the year under review an increase of 14,707, or 5·9 per cent., is to be recorded in the number of Muhammadan boys attending all classes of educational institutions. As in the previous year, the increase almost entirely took place in public institutions, the most noteworthy increase being under Arts and Professional colleges. There was a decrease in the number of Muhammadan pupils attending primary schools, but this was more than counterbalanced by an increase in the number of those attending maktabs.

Private madrassas.

64. A sum of Rs. 6,477 was spent during the year 1910-11 as grants-in-aid to private madrassas to enable them to adopt the new constitution and curriculum prescribed for madrassas in Bengal.

Maktabs.

65 The special course of studies designed for maktabs was introduced throughout the Province, and the new system of aiding maktabs described in paragraphs 279 and 80 of last year's report given effect to as far as funds would permit The total sum expended as grants in-aid amounted to about Rs. 45,000 as against Rs. 38,353 in the preceding year.

66. Towards the close of the year it was found possible to start 5 of the 17 training institutions to be reserved exclusively for the teachers of maktabs. The remainder will be established gradually as circumstances permit.

Reformatory School, Hazaribagh.*

67. The number of boys at the school on the 31st March last was 467. Of these, 289 were Hindus, 151 Muhammadans, 13 Native Christians, and 23 aborigines Reading, writing, and arithmetic were taught up to the lower primary standard in Bengali to Bengali boys, and in Hindi to up country boys. Since the close of the year an Uriya class has been sanctioned for the boys from Orissa. The appointment of a Maulvi for teaching Urdu to certain selected Muhammadan boys and for imparting religious instruction has been recommended to Government for sanction. The English class was continued for Indian boys learning Composing and Type-writing. The Drawing class for Freehand, Model, and Mechanical Drawing was maintained. The Night classes under the "Lancaster System" were also sanctioned permanently during the year. The Superintendent reports that good results were obtained at the half-yearly and yearly examinations as also at the annual examination in Physical and Sectional Drill, Gymnastics, and First Aid to the Injured. The boys were also employed as far as possible in their hereditary occupations. The principal industries taught are—

(1) Blacksmith's work, (2) Carpentry, (3) Cane and Bamboo work, (4) Tinwork, (5) Weaving, (6) Tailoring, (7) Shoe making, (8) Book-binding, (9) Cooking, (10) Farming and Gardening, (11) Dairy-keeping, (12) Mason's work, (13) Band practice, etc.

68. A few specimens of the boys' work were sent to the Allahabad Exhibition, and one silver and two bronze medals were awarded by the Exhibition Committee. The total cost of the institution increased from Rs. 1,01,668 in 1909-10 to Rs. 1,27,631 in 1910-11.

69. The Committee of Visitors held 13 meetings during the year under review. Visits were paid to the school by individual members, the Commissioner of the Division, the Director of Agriculture, and others. Dr. Gray, Advisor to Government on Physical Exercises, and a large number of private gentlemen also visited the institution.

Hostels.

70. The question of providing suitable and adequate accommodation under proper supervision has attracted the attention of the Government of India, and a sum of 12½ lakhs has been granted for the construction of hostel buildings not only for collegiate students but also for school boys in Calcutta and the mufassal.

71. The liberal scale of allowances to Superintendents of hostels and messes recently sanctioned by Government has enabled the Department to secure a superior type of officers for these appointments.

* Under orders of the Government of India separate special annual reports for the Reformatory School have been abolished The subject-matter of such reports was, however, ordered to be embodied in the Annual Reports on Public Instruction in Bengal. In accordance, therefore, with the subsequent instructions as to the form of the annual report referred to in paragraph 1, a brief summarised statement of the year's work is here given.

72. In addition to the Elliott Madrassa Hostel a new hostel for Muhammadans, called the Baker Madrassa Hostel, was started during the year. It provides accommodation for 100 students, and with easy extension may accommodate 50 additional students. The students of the Presidency College have a preferential claim on the accommodation provided.

73. The establishment of hostels in connection with high, middle, and training schools is proceeding gradually.

Physical training.

74. Dr. Gray, the Physical Director connected with the Young Men's Christian Association, visited certain districts last winter and submitted a report, which is now under consideration in this office.

Educational Conferences.

75. Conferences and meetings were held in the office of the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, to consider the improvement of the Presidency College, the distribution of the Imperial grant for hostels, and the improvement of the Women's Training College, Calcutta, and decisions arrived at. These subjects have been noticed in their proper places. Divisional and Deputy Inspectors also held Conferences on educational matters at their head-quarters.

G. W. KÜCHLER,
Director of Public Instruction, Bengal.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE BHADOI CROPS OF BENGAL, 1911.

[On an average of the five years ending 1909-10, the area under autumn rice in the territory to which this forecast relates has represented some 6·1 per cent. of the total area under this crop in British India.]

Character of the Season.—In March the rainfall was general over the Province. April and May were showery, but the fall was defective in most districts. Sowings were late in most districts of the Burdwan, Presidency and Bhagalpur Divisions. In June the rainfall was above the average everywhere except in Midnapore, Hooghly, Howrah, 24-Parganas, Khulna and Saran. In July the rainfall was below the normal in all districts except Nadia, Jessore, Khulna and Darjeeling, where it was above the average. In August the rainfall continued defective in Midnapore, Hooghly, Howrah, the 24-Parganas, Cuttack, Balasore and Singhbhum; in the remaining districts it was above the normal. The rainfall in September was general, the fall being in slight defect in most districts of Lower Bengal and Orissa, but heavy in South Bihar, Saran and Monghyr. The continued short rainfall in Midnapore, Hooghly, Howrah, Cuttack and Balasore affected the outturn of the crop in these districts. The defective rainfall in July and the early part of August also affected the crops in several other districts. Some damage was done by excessive rain in parts of Muzaffarpur, Bhagalpur, Purnea, the Sonthal Parganas and by floods in Burdwan, Cuttack and Puri.

Area sown.—The total area sown this year with different bhadoi crops is estimated at 10,391,500 acres against 9,130,900 acres, the revised figures for last year. The normal area under the crop is 10,960,500 acres.

Outturn.—From Appendix I attached to the forecast it will be seen that two districts, viz., Birbhum and Khulna, report 104 and 100 per cent. crops, respectively. Eight districts, viz., Burdwan, Jessore, Saran, Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Bhagalpur, Sambalpur and Ranchi report a crop between 90 and 99 per cent., six districts between 80 and 89 per cent., and seven districts between 70 and 79 per cent. In the remaining ten districts the crop is reported as follows:—

Districts.	Per cent.
Darjeeling	68
Gaya and the 24-Parganas	67
Hazaribagh	64
Cuttack	63
Hooghly	60
Angul	56
Howrah	54
Midnapore and Balasore	50 each.

Comparing the reports issued in the preliminary forecast with those now received, it appears that the outturn has improved in 15 districts and has decreased in eight districts.

According to the estimates of the District Officers, the total outturn of all bhadoi crops dealt with in this forecast for the Province works out to 84 per cent. of the normal. The outturn seems to me to have been underestimated in some districts, and I think that the crop will work out much the same as estimated last year, viz., 90 per cent. of the normal.

Accepting 90 per cent. as the outturn of autumn rice, the gross yield is estimated at 34,820,100 cwts. against 31,047,100 cwts. of last year.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

SECOND FORECAST OF THE WINTER RICE CROP OF BENGAL, 1911.

[On an average of five years ending 1909-10, the area under winter rice in the territory to which the forecast relates represents about 26·5 per cent. of the total area under winter rice in British India.]

Character of the season.—The rainfall in April and May, though defective, was sufficient for the preparation of seed-beds and for ploughing. The monsoon arrived a few days before the normal date, but the advance was of a temporary nature. In June the rainfall was slightly defective in Midnapore, Hooghly, Howrah, 24-Parganas, Khulna and Saran, but it was above the average in the rest of the Province. The rainfall in July was insufficient in many districts, and transplantation was delayed in consequence. In the early part of August there was good and sufficient rain in many districts, and satisfactory progress was made in the work of transplantation. The rainfall, however, was insufficient in the districts of Hooghly, Howrah, Cuttack and Balasore. In Cuttack and Balasore there were good showers in the beginning of September, and prospects improved considerably in these districts. The rainfall in September has been generally favourable in most of the remaining districts for the growth of the crop. The rainfall in October was general and did much good to the crop, though it was in slight defect in most districts of Lower Bengal and Orissa.

Area sown.—The total area sown with winter rice this year is estimated at 19,203,100 acres against 20,947,100 acres of last year. The normal area under the crop is returned as 19,916,600 acres. The decrease in the area sown this year is due to want of sufficient rain during the season for transplantation.

Outturn.—From the summary of the district returns appended to this report it will be seen that seven districts report more than a normal crop, viz., Darbhanga (126 per cent.), Saran and Muzaffarpur (117 per cent. each), Bhagalpur (114 per cent.), Sonthal Parganas (111 per cent.), Hazaribagh (108 per cent.) and Birbhum (103 per cent). Fourteen districts report crops between 90 and 100 per cent., six districts between 80 and 89 per cent., and three districts between 70 and 79 per cent. In the remaining three districts the outturn of the crop is reported as follows:—Howrah (65 per cent.), Balasore (60 per cent.) and Hooghly (51 per cent.). According to the district returns the outturn of the crop for the Province works out to 95 per cent. of the normal. But in consideration of the favourable weather conditions in the latter part of the season, I am of opinion that the crop will not fall short of the normal.

Accepting 100 per cent. as the provincial outturn, the gross yield of the cleaned winter rice crop for the Province is estimated at 211,626,000 cwts. against 258,550,800 cwts. of last year.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

3. (a) Government reserves to itself the right to alter the quantity and class of opium to be offered for sale in each month. No reduction in the quantities to be sold, however, will be made without three months' previous notice.

(b) The chests sold for China will be marked in a distinguishing manner and covered by a special permit to be granted by Government.

(c) All chests of certified opium sold for export to China must be shipped from Calcutta, on or before the 15th of December 1912, and if they are not so shipped, the option will be cancelled, and permits for their export to China will not be given either in 1912 or at any future time.

The following are the conditions of sale. The Board of Revenue reserves to itself the right of altering all or any of these conditions after giving three months' previous notice:—

1. The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this office by Bank of Bengal receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest

And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

6. The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9. The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

11. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions

13. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether fifteen lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said fifteen.

15. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue:—

No. 1—Certificate of the opium advertised for sale;

No. 2—Report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1910-11, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue.

18. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.,

W. A. MARR,
Secretary.

The Excise officer authorised by the Commissioner will deliver to every brewer a book in which the brewer must enter in the proper columns at least twenty-four hours before beginning to mash any malt, etc., or to dissolve any sugar, the day and hour of brewing with the date of making the entry, and at least two hours before the time entered for mashing or dissolving, he must enter separately the quantity of malt and unmalted corn, rice, rice grits, flaked rice, maize grits, flaked maize and other similar preparations and of sugar to be used, and the hour when all the worts will be drawn off the grains in the mash tun.

5. The brewer shall also enter in the same book the quantity and specific gravity before fermentation of the worts collected, the number and description of the vessel or vessels in which the worts were collected and the date and hour when the entry is made. Such entry must be made within one hour after the collection has been completed.

6. The brewer must enter the true original gravity of the worts, and he must keep the book on the premises entered in the description referred to in rule 1 at all times accessible to the officer and ready for his inspection.

7. The brewing book is the property of the Government.

8. The brewer must not cancel, obliterate or alter any entry or make an entry which is untrue in any particular.

Mode of working.

9. All worts shall be removed successively and in the customary order of brewing to the underback, coppers, coolers and collecting or fermenting vessels, and shall not be removed from the last-named vessels, until an account shall have been taken by the officer, or until after the expiration of twelve hours from the time at which the worts are collected.

15. Written application must be made to the Collector for an allowance for sour or spoilt beer.

16. There must be satisfactory evidence to enable the Collector to decide whether the beer can be identified with its proper brewing, subject to the following rules. If he is satisfied on this point he will sanction the destruction of the beer in an officer's presence.

17. The brewer must sign a declaration that the beer was brewed by him and had never left his premises, and that no part of it consists of "bottoms" or "returns" from vendors or other customers.

18. Representative samples must be taken and sent to such laboratory as the Commissioner may decide upon.

19. The officer must state the means by which he checked the bulk quantity, and after samples have been taken as aforesaid he must witness the destruction of the beer and record a note of the fact in the brewing book.

20. On receipt of a satisfactory report from the laboratory, the brewer may be credited with the proper amount of duty.

Materials.

21. The Commissioner may prohibit the use of any material in the manufacture of beer which is, in his opinion, of a deleterious nature.

22. The Excise officer or any inspecting officer may take, without payment, for the purpose of analysis, samples of any beer or material used in the manufacture thereof.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY HIS IMPERIAL MAJESTY.

"We are pleased to announce to Our people that on the advice of Our Ministers tendered after consultation with our Governor-General in Council, We have decided upon the transfer of the seat of the Government of India from Calcutta to the ancient Capital of Delhi, and simultaneously, and as a consequence of that transfer, the creation at as early a date as possible of a Governorship for the Presidency of Bengal, of a new Lieutenant-Governorship in Council administering the areas of Behar, Chota Nagpur and Orissa, and of a Chief Commissionership of Assam, with such administrative changes and redistribution of boundaries as Our Governor-General in Council, with the approval of Our Secretary of State for India in Council, may in due course determine.

"It is Our earnest desire that these changes may conduce to the better administration of India, and the greater prosperity and happiness of Our beloved people."

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

HOME DEPARTMENT.

To

THE RIGHT HON'BLE THE MARQUIS OF CREWE, K.G.,

His Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

Simla, the 25th August 1911.

MY LORD MARQUESS,

We venture in this despatch to address Your Lordship on a most important and urgent subject, embracing two questions of great political moment which are in our opinion indissolubly linked together. This subject has engaged our attention for some time past and the proposals which we are about to submit for Your Lordship's consideration are the result of our mature deliberation. We shall in the first place attempt to set forth the circumstances which have induced us to frame these proposals at this particular juncture and then proceed to lay before Your Lordship the broad general features of our scheme.

2. That the Government of India should have its seat in the same city as one of the chief Provincial Governments, and moreover in a city geographically so ill-adapted as Calcutta to be the capital of the Indian Empire, has long been recognised to be a serious anomaly. We need not stop to recall the circumstances in which Calcutta rose to its present position. The considerations which explain its original selection as the principal seat of Government have long since passed away with the consolidation of British rule throughout the Peninsula and the development of a great inland system of railway communication. But it is only in the light of recent developments, constitutional and political, that the drawbacks of the existing arrangement and the urgency of a change have been fully realised. On the one hand, the almost incalculable importance of the part which can already safely be predicted for the Imperial Legislative Council in the shape it has assumed under the Indian Councils Act of 1909, renders the removal of the capital to a more central and easily accessible position practically imperative. On the other hand, the peculiar political situation which has arisen in Bengal since the Partition makes it eminently desirable to withdraw the Government of India from its present Provincial environment, while its removal from Bengal is an essential feature of the scheme we have in view for allaying the ill-feeling aroused by the Partition amongst the Bengali population Once the necessity of removing the seat of the Supreme Government from Bengal is established, as we trust it may be by the considerations we propose to lay before Your Lordship, there can be, in our opinion, no manner of doubt as to the choice of the new capital or as to the occasion on which that choice should be announced On geographical, historical and political grounds, the capital of the Indian Empire should be at Delhi, and the announcement that the transfer of the seat of Government to Delhi had been sanctioned should be made by His Majesty the King-Emperor at the forthcoming Imperial Durbar in Delhi itself.

3. The maintenance of British rule in India depends on the ultimate supremacy of the Governor-General in Council, and the Indian Councils Act of 1909 itself bears testimony to the impossibility of allowing matters of vital concern to be decided by a majority of non-official votes in the Imperial Legislative Council. Nevertheless it is certain that, in the course of time, the just demands of Indians for a larger share in the government of the country will have to be satisfied, and the question will be how this devolution of power can be conceded without impairing the supreme authority of the Governor-General in Council. The only possible solution of the difficulty would appear to be gradually to give the Provinces a larger measure of self-government, until at last India would consist of a number of administrations, autonomous in all provincial affairs, with the Government of India above them all, and possessing power to interfere in case of misgovernment, but ordinarily restricting their functions to matters of Imperial concern. In order that this consummation may be attained, it is essential that the Supreme Government should not be associated with any particular Provincial Government. The removal of the Government of India from Calcutta is, therefore, a measure which will, in our opinion, materially facilitate the growth of Local self-Government on sound and safe lines. It is generally recognised that the capital of a great central Government should be separate and independent, and effect has been given to this principle in the United States, Canada and Australia.

4. The administrative advantages of the transfer would be scarcely less valuable than the political In the first place, the development of the Legislative Councils has made the withdrawal of the Supreme Council and the Government of India from the influence of local opinion a matter of ever-increasing urgency. Secondly, events in Bengal are apt to react on the Viceroy and the Government of India, to whom the responsibility for them is often wrongly attributed The connection is bad for the Government of India, bad for the Bengal Government, and unfair to the other Provinces, whose representatives view with great and increasing jealousy the predominance of Bengal. Further, public opinion in Calcutta is by no means always the same as that which obtains elsewhere in India, and it is undesirable that the Government of India should be subject exclusively to its influence.

5. The question of providing a separate capital for the Government of India has often been debated, but generally with the object of finding a site where that Government could spend all seasons of the year. Such a solution would of course be ideal, but it is impracticable. The various sites suggested are either difficult of access or are devoid of historical associations. Delhi is the only possible place. It has splendid communications, its climate is good for 7 months in the year, and its salubrity could be ensured at a reasonable cost. The Government of India would therefore be able to stay in Delhi from the 1st of October to the 1st of May, whilst owing to the much greater proximity, the annual migration to and from Simla could be reduced in volume, would take up much less time and be far less costly. Some branches of the administration, such as Railways and Posts and Telegraphs, would obviously derive special benefit from the change to such a central position, and the only Department which, as far as we can see might be thought to suffer some inconvenience, would be that of Commerce and Industry, which would be less closely in touch at Delhi with the commercial and industrial interests centered in Calcutta. On the other hand that Department would be closer to the other commercial centres of Bombay and Karachi, whose interests are sometimes opposed to those of Calcutta, and would thus be in a better position to deal impartially with the railway and commercial interests of the whole of India.

6. The political advantages of the transfer it is impossible to overestimate. Delhi is still a name to conjure with. It is intimately associated in the minds of the Hindus with sacred legends which go back even beyond the dawn of history. It is in the plains of Delhi that the Pandava Princes fought out with the Kurawas the epic struggle recorded in the Mahabarata, and celebrated on the banks of the Jumna the famous sacrifice which consecrated their title to Empire. The Purana Kila still marks the site of the city which they founded and called Indraprastha, barely three miles from the south gate of the modern city of Delhi. To the Mahomedans it would be a source of unbounded gratification to see the ancient capital of the Moguls restored to its proud position as the seat of Empire. Throughout India, as far south as the Mahomedan conquest extended, every walled town has its "Delhi Gate," and among the masses of the people it is still revered as the seat of the former Empire. The change would strike the imagination of the people of India as nothing else could do, would send a wave of enthusiasm throughout the country, and would be accepted by all as the assertion of an unfaltering determination to maintain British rule in India. It would be hailed with joy by the Ruling Chiefs and the races of Northern India, and would be warmly welcomed by the vast majority of Indians throughout the continent.

7. The only serious opposition to the transfer which may be anticipated, may, we think, come from the European commercial community of Calcutta, who might, we fear, not regard the creation of a Governorship of Bengal as altogether adequate compensation for the withdrawal of the Government of India. The opposition will be quite intelligible, but we can no doubt count upon their patriotism to reconcile them to a measure which would greatly contribute to the welfare of the Indian Empire. The Bengalis might not of course, be favourably disposed to the proposal if it stood alone, for it will entail the loss of some of the influence which they now exercise owing to the fact that Calcutta is the head-quarters of the Government of India. But as we hope presently to show they should be reconciled to the change by other features of our scheme which are specially designed to give satisfaction to Bengali sentiment. In these circumstances we do not think that they would be so manifestly unreasonable as to oppose it, and, if they did, might confidently expect that their opposition would raise no echo in the rest of India.

8. Absolutely conclusive as these general considerations in favour of the transfer of the capital from Calcutta to Delhi in themselves appear to us to be, there are further special considerations arising out of the present political situation in Bengal and Eastern Bengal which, in our opinion, renders such a measure peculiarly opportune at such a moment, and to these we would now draw Your Lordship's earnest attention.

9. Various circumstances have forced upon us the conviction that the bitterness of feeling engendered by the Partition of Bengal is very widespread and unyielding, and that we are by no means at an end of the troubles which have followed upon that measure. Eastern Bengal and Assam has, no doubt, benefited greatly by the Partition and the Mahomedans of the Province, who form a large majority of the population, are loyal and contented, but the resentment amongst the Bengalis in both provinces of Bengal, who hold most of the land, fill the professions, and exercise a preponderating influence in public affairs, is as strong as ever, though somewhat less vocal.

10. The opposition to the partition of Bengal was at first based mainly on sentimental grounds, but, as we shall show later in discussing the proposed modification of the Partition, since the enlargement of the Legislative Councils and especially of the representative element in them, the grievance of the Bengalis has become much more real and tangible, and is likely to increase, instead of to diminish. Every one with any true desire for the peace and prosperity of this country must wish to find some manner of appeasement if it is in any way possible to do so. The simple rescission of the Partition and a reversion to the status quo ante are manifestly impossible, both on political and on administrative grounds. The old province of Bengal was unmanageable under any form of Government, and we could not defraud the legitimate expectations of the Mahomedans of Eastern Bengal, who form the bulk of the population of that province and who have been loyal to the British Government throughout the troubles, without exposing ourselves to the charge of bad faith. A settlement to be satisfactory and conclusive must—

(1) provide convenient administrative units;

(2) satisfy the legitimate aspirations of the Bengalis;

(3) duly safeguard the interests of the Mahomedans of Eastern Bengal, and generally conciliate Mahomedan sentiment; and

(4) be so clearly based upon broad grounds of political and administrative expediency as to negative any presumption that it has been exacted by clamour or agitation.

11. If the head-quarters of the Government of India be transferred from Calcutta to Delhi, and if Delhi be thereby made the Imperial capital, placing the city of Delhi and part of the surrounding country under the direct administration of the Government of India, the following scheme, which embraces three inter-dependent proposals, would appear to satisfy all these conditions:—

I. To reunite the five Bengali-speaking divisions, viz., the Presidency, Burdwan, Dacca, Rajshahi and Chittagong divisions, forming them into a Presidency to be administered by a Governor-in-Council. The area of the province will be approximately 70,000 square miles and the population about 42,000,000.

II To create a Lieutenant-Governorship-in-Council to consist of Behar, Chota Nagpur, and Orissa, with a Legislative Council and a capital at Patna. The area of the province would be approximately 113,000 square miles, and the population about 35,000,000.

III. To restore the Chief Commissionership of Assam. The area of that province would be about 56,000 square miles and the population about 5,000,000.

12. We elaborated at the outset our proposal to make Delhi the future capital of India, because we consider this the key-stone of the whole project, and hold that according as it is accepted or not, our scheme must stand or fall. But we have still to discuss in greater detail the leading features of the other part of our scheme.

13. Chief amongst them is the proposal to constitute a Governorship-in-Council for Bengal. The history of the Partition dates from 1902. Various schemes of territorali redistribution were at that time under consideration, and that which was ultimately adopted had at any rate the merit of fulfilling two of the chief purposes which its authors had in view. It relieved the over-burdened administration of Bengal, and it gave the Mahomedan population of Eastern Bengal advantages and opportunities of which they had perhaps hitherto not had their fair share. On the other hand, as we have already pointed out, it was deeply resented by the Bengalis. No doubt sentiment has played a considerable part in the opposition offered by the Bengalis, and, in saying this, we by no means wish to underrate the importance which should be attached to sentiment even if it be exaggerated. It is, however, no longer a matter of mere sentiment but, rather, since the enlargement of the Legislative Councils, one of undeniable reality. In pre-reform scheme days the non-official element in these Councils was small. The representation of the people has now been carried a long step forward, and in the Legislative Councils of both the Provinces of Bengal and Eastern Bengal, the Bengalis find themselves in a minority, being outnumbered in the one by Beharis and Ooriyas, and in the other by the Mahomedans of Eastern Bengal, and the inhabitants of Assam. As matters now stand, the Bengalis can never exercise in either province that influence to which they consider themselves entitled by reason of their numbers, wealth and culture. This is a substantial grievance which will be all the more keenly felt in the course of time, as the representative character of the Legislative Councils increases and with it the influence which these Assemblies exercise upon the conduct of public affairs. There is therefore only too much reason to fear that, instead of dying down, the bitterness of feeling will become more and more acute.

14. It has frequently been alleged in the Press that the Partition is the root cause of all recent troubles in India. The growth of political unrest in other parts of the country and notably in the Deccan before the Partition of Bengal took place disproves that assertion, and we need not ascribe to the Partition evils which have not obviously flowed from it. It is certain, however, that it is, in part at any rate, responsible for the growing estrangement which has now unfortunately assumed a very serious character in many parts of the country between Mahomedans and Hindus. We are not without hope that a modification of the Partition, which we now propose, will, in some degree at any rate, alleviate this most regrettable antagonism.

15. To sum up, the results anticipated from the Partition have not been altogether realised, and the scheme, as designed and executed, could only be justified by success. Although much good work has been done in Eastern Bengal and Assam, and the Mahomedans of that Province have reaped the benefit of a sympathetic administration closely in touch with them, those advantages have been in a great measure counterbalanced by the violent hostility which the Partition has aroused amongst the Bengalis. For the reasons we have already indicated we feel bound to admit that the Bengalis are labouring under a sense of real injustice which we believe it would be sound policy to remove without further delay. The Durbar of December next affords a unique occasion for rectifying what is regarded by Bengalis as a grievous wrong.

16. Anxious as we are to take Bengali feeling into account, we cannot overrate the importance of consulting at the same time the interests and sentiments of the Mahomedans of Eastern Bengal. It must be remembered that the Mahomedans of Eastern Bengal have at present an overwhelming majority in point of population, and that if the Bengali-speaking divisions were amalgamated on the lines suggested in our scheme, the Mahomedans would still be in a position of approximate numerical equality with, or possibly of small superiority over, the Hindus. The future province of Bengal, moreover, will be a compact territory of quite moderate extent. The Governor-in-Council will have ample time and opportunity to study the needs of the various communities committed to his charge. Unlike his predecessors, he will have a great advantage in that he will find ready to hand at Dacca a second capital, with all the conveniences of ordinary provincial headquarters. He will reside there from time to time, just as the Lieutenant-Governor of the United Provinces frequently resides in Lucknow, and he will in this way be enabled to keep in close touch with Mahomedan sentiments and interests. It must also be borne in mind that the interests of the Mahomedans will be safeguarded by the special representation which they enjoy in the Legislative Councils; while as regards representation on local bodies they will be in the same position as at present. We need not therefore trouble Your Lordship with the reasons why we have discarded the suggestion that a Chief Commissionership or a semi-independent Commissionership within the new province might be created at Dacca.

17. We regard the creation of a Governorship-in-Council of Bengal as a very important feature of our scheme. It is by no means a new one. The question of the creation of a Governorship was fully discussed in 1867 to 1868 by the Secretary of State and the Government of India, and a Committee was formed, on the initiative of Sir Stafford Northcote, to consider it and that of the transfer of the capital elsewhere. In the somewhat voluminous correspondence of the past the most salient points that emerge are:—

(1) That a Governorship of Bengal would not be compatible with the presence in Calcutta of the Viceroy and the Government of India.

(2) That had it been decided to create a Governorship of Bengal, the question of the transfer of the capital from Calcutta would have been taken into consideration.

(3) That although a majority of the Governor-General's Council and the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal (Sir William Grey) were in favour of the creation of a Governorship, Sir John Lawrence, the Governor-General, was opposed to the proposal, but for purposes of better administration contemplated the constitution of a Lieutenant-Governorship of Behar and the separation of Assam from Bengal under a Chief Commissioner. Since the discussions of 1867-68 considerable and very important changes have taken place in the constitutional development of Bengal. That Province has already an Executive Council, and the only change that would therefore be necessary for the realisation of this part of our scheme is that the Lieutenant-Governorship should be converted into a Governorship. Particular arguments have from time to time been urged against the appointment of a Governor from England. These were that Bengal, more than any other province, requires the head of the Government to possess an intimate knowledge of India and of the Indian people, and that a Statesman or Politician appointed from England without previous knowledge of India would in no part of the country find his ignorance a greater drawback or be less able to cope with the intricacies of an exceedingly complex position.

18. We have no wish to underrate the great advantage to an Indian administrator of an intimate knowledge of the country and of the people he is to govern. At the same time actual experience has shown that a Governor, carefully selected and appointed from England and aided by a Council, can successfully administer a large Indian province, and that a province so administered requires less supervision on the part of the Government of India. In this connection we may again refer to the correspondence of 1867-68 and cite two of the arguments employed by the late Sir Henry Maine, when discussing the question of a Council form of Government for Bengal. They are:—

(1) That the system in Madras and Bombay has enabled a series of men of no conspicuous ability to carry on a difficult Government for a century with great success.

(2) That the concession of a full Governorship to Bengal would have a good effect on English public opinion, which would accordingly cease to impose on the Government of India a responsibility which it is absolutely impossible to discharge.

In view of the great difficulties connected with the administration of Bengal, we attatch the highest importance to these arguments. We are also convinced that nothing short of a full Governorship would satisfy the aspirations of the Bengalis and of the Mahomedans of Eastern Bengal. We may add that, as in the case of the Governorships of Madras and Bombay, the appointment would be open to members of the Indian Civil Service, although, no doubt in practice, the Governor will usually be recruited from England.

19. On the other hand, one very grave and obvious objection has been raised in the past to the creation of a Governorship for Bengal, which we should fully share, were it not disposed of by the proposal which constitutes the key-stone of our scheme. Unquestionably a most undesirable situation might and would quite passibly arise if a Governor-General of India and a Governor of Bengal, both selected from the ranks of English public men, were to reside in the same capital and be liable to be brought in various ways into regrettable antagonism or rivalry. This indeed constitutes yet another, and in our opinion, a very cogent, reason why the head-quarters of the Government of India should be transferred from Calcutta to Delhi.

20. We now turn to the proposal to create a Lieutenant-Governorship in Council for Behar, Chota Nagpur and Orissa. We are convinced that if the Governor of Bengal is to do justice to the territories which we propose to assign to him, and to safeguard the interests of the Mahomedans of his province, Behar and Chota Nagpur must be dissociated from Bengal. Quite apart, however, from that consideration, we a e satisfied that it is in the highest degree desirable to give the Hindi-speaking people, now included within the Province of Bengal, a separate administration. These people have hitherto been unequally yoked with the Bengalis, and have never therefore had a fair opportunity for development. The cry of Behar for the Beharis has frequently been raised in connection with the conferment of appointments, an excessive number of offices in Behar having been held by Bengalis. The Beharis are a sturdy loyal people, and it is a matter of common knowledge that, although they have long desired separation from Bengal, they refrained at the time of the Partition from asking for it, because they did not wish to join the Bengalis in opposition to Government. There has, moreover, been a very marked awakening in Behar in recent years, and a strong belief has grown up among Beharis that Behar will never develop until it is dissociated from Bengal. That belief will, unless a remedy be found, give rise to agitation in the near future, and the present is an admirable opportunity to carry out on our own initiative a thoroughly sound and much desired change. The Ooriyas, like the Beharis, have little in common with the Bengalis, and we propose to leave Orissa (and the Sambalpur district) with Behar and Chota Nagpur. We believe that this arrangement will well accord with popular sentiment in Orissa and will be welcome to Behar as presenting a seaboard to that province. We need hardly add that we have considered various alternatives, such as the making over of Chota Nagpur or of Orissa to the Central Provinces, and the creation of a Chief Commissionership instead of a Lieutenant-Governorship for Behar, Chota Nagpur and Orissa, but none of them seem to deserve more than passing consideration, and we have therefore refrained from troubling Your Lordship with the overwhelming arguments against them. We have also purposely refrained from discussing in this despatch questions of subsidiary importance which must demand detailed consideration when the main features of the scheme are sanctioned, and we are in a position to consult the local Governments concerned.

21. We now pass on to the last proposal, viz., to restore the Chief Commissionership of Assam. This would be merely a reversion to the policy advocated by Sir John Lawrence in 1867. This part of India is still in a backward condition and more fit for administration by a Chief Commissioner than a more highly developed form of government, and we may notice that this was the view which prevailed in 1896-1897, when the question of transferring the Chittagong Division and the Dacca and Mymensingh districts to Assam was first discussed. Events of the past 12 months on the frontiers of Assam and Burma have clearly shown the necessity of having the north-east frontier, like the north-west frontier, more directly under the control of the Government of India and removed from that of the local Government. We may add that we do not anticipate that any opposition will be raised to this proposal, which, moreover, forms an essential part of our scheme.

22. We will now give a rough indication of the cost of the scheme. No attempt at accuracy is possible, because we have purposely avoided making enquiries, as they would be likely to result in the premature disclosure of our proposals. The cost of the transfer to Delhi would be considerable. We cannot conceive, however, that a larger sum than 4 million sterling would be necessary, and within that figure probably could be found the three years' interest on capital which would have to be paid till the necessary works and buildings were completed. We might find it necessary to issue a "City of Delhi" Gold loan at 3½ % guaranteed by the Government of India, the interest, or the larger part of the interest, on this loan being eventually obtainable from rents and taxes. In connection with a general enhancement of land values, which would ensue at Delhi as a result of the transfer, we should endeavour to secure some part of the increment value, which at Calcutta has gone into the pockets of the landlords. Other assets which would from a set-off to the expenditure would be the great rise of Government land at Delhi and its neighbourhood, and a considerable amount which would be realised on the sale of Government land and buildings no longer required at Calcutta. The proximity of Delhi to Simla would also have the effect of reducing the current expenditure involved in the annual move to and from Simla. The actual railway journey from Calcutta to Simla takes 42 hours, while Delhi can be reached from Simla in 14 hours. Further, inasmuch as the Government of India would be able to stay longer in Delhi than in Calcutta, the cost on account of hill allowances would be reduced. We should also add that many of the works now in progress at Delhi in connection with the construction of roads and railways and the provision of electricity and water for the Durbar, and upon which considerable expenditure has been incurred, will be of appreciable value to the Government of India as permanent works when the transfer is made.

23. As regards the remaining proposals, the recurring expenditure will be that involved in the creation of a Governorship for Bengal and a Chief Commissionership for Assam. The pay and allowances, taken together, of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal already exceed the pay of a Governor of Madras or Bombay, and the increase in expenditure when a Governor is appointed, would not, we think, be much beyond that required for the support of a bodyguard and a band. Considerable initial expenditure would be required in connection with the acquisition of land and the construction of buildings for the new Capital of Behar, and, judging from the experience gained in connection with Dacca, we may assume that this will amount to about 50 or 60 lakhs. Some further initial expenditure would be necessary in connection with the summer head-quarters, wherever these may be fixed.

24. Before concluding this despatch we venture to say a few words as regards the need for a very early decision on the proposals we have put forward for Your Lordship's consideration. It is manifest that, if the transfer of the capital is to be given effect to, the question becomes more difficult the longer that it remains unsolved. The experience of the last two sessions has shown that the present Council Chamber in Government House, Calcutta, fails totally to meet the needs of the enlarged Imperial Legislative Council, and the proposal to acquire a site and to construct a Council Chamber is already under discussion. Once a new Council Chamber is built, the position of Calcutta as the Capital of India will be further strengthened and consolidated and, though we are convinced that a transfer will in any case eventually have to be made, it will then be attended by much greater difficulty and still further expense. Similarly, if some modification of the Partition is as we believe, desirable, the sooner it is effected the better, but we do not see how it can be safely effected with due regard for the dignity of Government as well as for the public opinion of the rest of India and more especially for Mahomedan sentiment, except as part of the larger scheme we have outlined. In the event of these far-reaching proposals being sanctioned by His Majesty's Government, as we trust may be the case, we are of opinion that the presence of His Majesty the King-Emperor at Delhi would offer an unique opportunity for a pronouncement of one of the most weighty decisions ever taken since the establishment of British rule in India. The other two proposals embodied in our scheme are not of such great urgency but are consequentially essential and in themselves of great importance. Half measures will be of no avail, and whatever is to be done should be done so as to make a final settlement and to satisfy the claims of all concerned. The scheme which we have ventured to commend to Your Lordship's favourable consideration is not put forward with any spirit of opportunism, but in the belief that action on the lines proposed will be a bold stroke of statesmanship which would give unprecedented satisfaction and will for ever associate so unique an event as the visit of the reigning Sovereign to his Indian dominions with a new era in the history of India.

25. Should the above scheme meet with the approval of Your Lordship and His Majesty's Government, we would propose that the King-Emperor should announce at the Durbar the transfer of the capital from Calcutta to Delhi and simultaneously, and as a consequence of that transfer, the creation at an early date of a Governorship in Council for Bengal and of a new Lieutenant-Governorship in Council for Behar, Chota Nagpur and Orissa, with such administrative changes and redistribution of boundaries as the Governor-General in Council would in due course determine with a view to removing any legitimate causes for dissatisfaction arising out of the Partition of 1905. The formula of such a pronouncement could be defined after general sanction had been given to the scheme. This sanction we now have the honour to solicit from Your Lordship.

26. We should thus be able after the Durbar to discuss in detail with local and other authorities the best method of carrying out a modification of Bengal on such broad and comprehensive lines as to form a settlement that shall be final and satisfactory to all.

We have the honour to be,

MY LORD MARQUIS,

Your Lordship's most obedient, humble servants,

INDIA OFFICE,
London, the 1st November 1911.

To

GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL.

MY LORD,

I have received Your Excellency's despatch dated the 25th of August last and issued in the Home Department, and I have considered it in Council with the attention due to the importance of its subject.

2. In the first place you propose to transfer from Calcutta to Delhi the seat of the Government of India, a momentous change which in your opinion can be advocated on its intrinsic merits, and apart from the considerations which are discussed in the later passages of your despatch. You point out with truth that many of the circumstances which explain the selection of Fort William in the second half of the eighteenth century as the headquarters of the East India Company cannot now be adduced as arguments for the permanent retention of Calcutta as the Capital of British India; while certain new conditions and developments seem to point positively towards the removal of the central Government to another position. Such a suggestion is in itself not entirely novel, since it has often been asked whether the inconvenience and cost of an annual migration to the Hills could not be avoided by founding a new official capital at some place in which Europeans could reside healthfully and work efficiently throughout the whole year. You regard any such solution as impracticable in my judgment rightly, and you proceed to describe in favourable terms the purely material claims of Delhi for approval as the new centre of Government. There would be undoubted advantage both in a longer sojourn at the capital than is at present advisable and in the shorter journey to and from Simla when the yearly transfer has to be made; while weight may properly be attached to the central situation of Delhi and to its fortunate position as a great railway junction. As you point out, these facts of themselves ensure not a few administrative advantages, and I am not disposed to attach serious importance to the removal of the Department of Commerce and Industry from a busy centre like Calcutta, for any official disadvantage due to this cause should be counterbalanced by the gain of a wider outlook upon the commercial activities of India as a whole.

3. From the historical standpoint, to which you justly draw attention, impressive reasons in support of the transfer cannot less easily be advanced. Not only do the ancient walls of Delhi enshrine an imperial tradition comparable with that of Constantinople, or with that of Rome itself, but the near neighbourhood of the existing City formed the theatre for some most notable scenes in the old-time drama of Hindu history, celebrated in the vast treasure-house of national epic verse To the races of India, for whom the legends and records of the past are charged with so intense a meaning, this resumption by the Paramount Power of the seat of venerable Empire should at once enforce the continuity and promise the permanency of British sovereign rule over the length and breadth of the country. Historical reasons will thus prove to be political reasons of deep importance and of real value in favour of the proposed change. I share, too, your belief that the Ruling Chiefs as a body will favour the policy and give to it their hearty adhesion.

4. But however solid may be the material advantages which you enumerate, and however warm the anticipated response from Indian sentiment, it may be questioned whether we should venture to contemplate so abrupt a departure from the traditions of British Government, and so complete a dislocation of settled official habits, if we were able to regard with absolute satisfaction the position as it exists at Calcutta.

5. Your Excellency is not unaware that for some time past I have appreciated the special difficulties arising from the collocation of the Government of India and the Government of Bengal in the same head-quarters. The arrangement, as you frankly describe it, is a bad one for both Governments, and the Viceroy for the time being is inevitably faced by this dilemma, that either he must become Governor-in-Chief of Bengal in a unique sense, or he must consent to be saddled by public opinion both in India and at home with direct liability for acts of administration or policy over which he only exercises in fact the general control of a supreme Government. The Local Government, on the other hand, necessarily suffers from losing some part of the sense of responsibility rightly attaching to it as to other similar administrations. It involves no imputation either upon Your Excellency's Government, or upon the distinguished public servants who have carried on the Government of Bengal, to pronounce the system radically an unsound one.

6. It might, indeed, have been thought possible to correct this anomaly with less disturbance of present conditions, by retaining Calcutta as the central seat of Government, under the immediate control of the Viceroy, and transferring the Government of Bengal elsewhere. But two considerations appear to forbid the adoption of such a course. In the first place it is doubtful whether the arbitrary creation of an artificial boundary could in practice cause Calcutta so long the capital of Western Bengal, to cease altogether to be a Bengali city in the fullest sense. Again, the experiment of turning the second city on the British Empire into an Imperial enclave would be certain to cast a new and altogether undue burden upon the shoulders of the Governor-General, however freely the actual work of administration might be delegated to subordinate officials. It is true that Washington, during the century since it became the capital of the United States, has grown into a large and wealthy city, with industries on a considerable scale, but even now it possesses less than a third of the population of Calcutta, while Ottawa and the New Australian foundation of Yass-Canberra are likely to continue mainly as political capitals. Such a solution may therefore be dismissed, while no parallel difficulties need be dreaded if Delhi and its surroundings are placed directly under the Government of India.

7. I am glad to observe that you have not underrated the objections to the transfer which are likely to be entertained in some quarters. The compensation which will be offered to Bengali sentiment by other of your interdependent proposals is in my opinion fully adequate. and I do not think it necessary to dwell further on this aspect of the change. But it cannot be supposed that the European community of Calcutta, particularly the commercial section, can regard it without some feelings of chagrin and disappointment in their capacity as citizens. But you may rely, I am certain, upon their wider patriotism, and upon their willingness to subordinate local and personal considerations to those which concern the general good of India. Nor, on full reflection, need they fear any seriously untoward consequences. The city will remain the seat of a most prominent and influential Government. I see no reason why it should suffer in material prosperity, retaining as it will not merely an almost universal commerce, but the practical monopoly in more than one branch of trade. And from the standpoint of sentiment, nothing can ever deprive Calcutta of her association with a century and a half of British Government, signalised by many great events, and adorned by the famous roll of those who have preceded Your Excellency in the office of Governor-General. Such a history is a perpetual possession, and it will guide the steps of all travellers to Calcutta not less certainly than has the presence of the Supreme Government in the past.

8. In view of this change it is your desire that a Governorship in Council should be constituted for Bengal. You remind me that the possibility of such a creation was fully discussed in the years 1867 and 1868, although divergent opinions were expressed by different authorities of that day, and no steps were in fact taken. One of the principal objections felt then, as now, to the proposition taken by itself, hinged on the difficulty of planting such an administration in Calcutta side by side with that of the Government of India. The criticism is valid, but it would be silenced by the transfer of the capital to Delhi. I note with general agreement your observations upon the probable appointment in ordinary circumstances of a statesman or administrator from the United Kingdom to the Governorship of Bengal, while concurring that the appointment, like the other great Governorships, would be open to members of the Indian Civil Service whenever it might be desirable to seek for an occupant among their ranks I also share your conviction that no lower grade of administration would be held in the altered conditions to satisfy the reasonable aspirations either of Hindus or of Mahomedans for the reputation and status of Bengal among the great divisions of India.

9. In considering the area which the Governor of a new Bengal should be called upon to administer, it is not necessary to recall at length the steps which led up to the Partition of the former Presidency, or to engage in detailed examination of its results. It is universally admitted that up to the year 1905 the task which the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal and his subordinates had to perform, having regard to the extent of the Presidency, to its population, and the difficulties of communication in many districts, was one with which no energy or capacity could completely cope. It is equally certain that the provincial centre of gravity was unduly diverted to the western portion of the area, and to Calcutta itself, with the result that the Mahomedan community of Eastern Bengal were unintentionally deprived of an adequate share of consideration and attention. Such a state of affairs was not likely to agitate public opinion on this side of the water; the name of Dacca, once so familiar to British ears, had become almost unknown to them. A rearrangement of administration at the instance of the Government of India was therefore almost imperative, but the plan that was ultimately adopted, while effecting some beneficial changes in Eastern Bengal, and offering relief to the overladen government, produced consequences in relation to the Bengali population which you depict with accuracy and fairness. History teaches us that it has sometimes been found necessary to ignore local sentiment, or to override racial prejudice, in the interest of sound administration, or in order to establish an ethical or political principle. But even where indisputable justification can be claimed, such an exercise of authority is almost always regrettable in itself, and it will often be wise to grasp an opportunity of assuaging the resentment which has been aroused, where this can be done without practical detriment to order and good government. You point out, moreover, that in this case the grievance is not only one of sentiment, but that in connection with the Legislative Councils the Bengali population is subjected to practical disabilities which demand and merit some redress. In Your Excellency's opinion, the desired objects can properly be achieved by re-uniting the five Bengali-speaking divisions of the Presidency, Burdwan, Dacca, Rajshahi and Chittagong, into the new Presidency to be for the future administered by the Governor of Bengal in Council.

10. At the same time you lay deserved stress on the importance of giving no ground for apprehension to the Mahomedans of Eastern Bengal lest their interests should be injuriously affected by the intended alteration. In common with others of their faith, they would presumably regard with satisfaction the re-erection of Delhi as the capital of India, but they would be primarily concerned with the local aspect of the proposals. It is evident that in delimiting the new Presidency care is needed to see that the balance of the different populations, though it could not remain throughout the entire area as it stands at present in Eastern Bengal and Assam is not rudely disturbed, and, as you point out, the special representation on the Legislative Councils which is enjoyed by the Mahomedans, supplies them with a distinct safeguard in this respect. I attach, however, no little importance to the proposal that the Governor of Bengal should regard Dacca as his second capital, with full claims on his regular attention, and his residence for an appreciable part of the year. The arrangements which have been made there for the administration of the existing Lieutenant-Governor will thus not merely be utilised, but will serve a valuable purpose which it would have been difficult to secure had proposals similar to those which you now make been put forward when the old Bengal was undivided In these circumstances I consider that you are right not to make any suggestion for a Commissionership at Dacca, analogous to that existing in Sind in the Presidency of Bombay.

11. Your next proposition involves the creation of a Lieutenant Governorship in Council for Behar, Chota Nagpur, and Orissa. I observe that you have considered and dismissed a number of alternative suggestions for dealing with these three important and interesting Divisions. Some of these schemes, as Your Excellency is aware, have at different times been the subjects of discussion when a rearrangement of boundaries has been contemplated, and I refrain from commenting on any of them at this moment, holding as I do that you have offered the plainest and most reasonable solution, if any substantial change is to be made at all The three sub-provinces above named, while differing inter se in some marked features, are alike loosely connected with Bengal proper, and their complete administrative severance would involve no hardship to the Presidency. You describe the desire of the hardy and law-abiding inhabitants of Behar for a clearer expression of their local individuality, differing from the Bengalis as they largely do in origin, in language, in proclivities, and in the nature of the soil they cultivate. Orissa, again, with its variety of races and physical conditions, with its considerable seaboard, invested with a peculiar sanctity of religious tradition, prefers a code of land legislation founded on a system of tenure differing in the main from those both of Bengal and of the Central Provinces, and has long felt uneasiness at a possible loss of identity as a distinct community. The highlands of Chota Nagpur, far less densely populated than Bengal, and containing a large aboriginal element, also possess ancestral and historical claims for separate treatment in various respects. These three sub provinces with their combined population of some thirty-five millions, would form a charge well within the compass of a Lieutenant-Governorship, and it may be assumed that the controlling officer would be able to bestow continuous care and attention upon each of the divisions within his area.

12. The concluding suggestion which you put forward is that the Chief Commissionership of Assam should be revived. I attach weight to your argument that the political conditions on the north-eastern frontier of India render it desirable that, like the North-West, it should be the immediate concern of Your Excellency's Government, rather than of a local administration, and I note your belief, which I trust may prove to be well-founded, that the inhabitants of this Province, of first-rate importance in industry and commerce, are not likely to offer any opposition to the change. On the contrary, they may be disposed to welcome it, since I am confident that the Supreme Government would assiduously preserve all local interests, either material or of sentiment, from any possible detriment attributable to the altered system.

13. I make no complaint of the fact that Your Excelleney is unable at this stage to present for sanction a close estimate of the cost which is likely to be incurred in respect of the various proposals included in your despatch, either by way of initial or of recurring expenditure. You have only found it possible to name the round sum of four millions sterling which you regard as the outside figure of cost which could be incurred by the transfer to Delhi, and you indicate your opinion that this amount might be raised by a special Gold loan. I agree that it was not possible for you, in the special circumstances of the case, to undertake the investigations which would have been necessary before you could submit even a general estimate of expenditure either at Delhi or in relation to the Governorship of Bengal, to the Lieutenant-Governorship of the new united Provinces, or to the Chief Commissionership of Assam This being so, I refrain for the present from making any observations on this part of the subject, merely stating my general conviction that your Excellency is fully alive to the magnitude of the proposed operations, and to the necessity for thoughtful preparation and continuous vigilance in order that the expenditure, which must necessarily be so large, may be conducted with no tinge of wastefulness, and, as regards the particular case of Delhi, assuring you that my full sympathy will be extended to any efforts you may make to prevent the holding up against the Government of land which you may find it necessary to secure for public purposes

14. I find myself in general agreement with Your Excellency when you state that if this policy is to be approved, it is imperative to avoid delay in carrying it into effect. You give substantial reasons for this opinion, both on administrative and economical grounds, and though a number of details remain for settlement, many of which must demand careful examination and consultation, while some may awaken differences of opinion, it is possible now to pronounce a definite opinion upon the broad features of the scheme. Regarding it as a whole, and appreciating the balance sought to be maintained between the different races, classes and interests likely to be affected, I cannot recall in history, nor can I picture in any portion of the civilised world as it now exists, a series of administrative changes of so wide a scope, culminating in the transfer of the main seat of Government, carried out, as I believe the future will prove with so little detriment to any class of the community, while satisfying the historical sense of millions, aiding the general work of Government, and removing the deeply-felt grievance of many. I therefore give my general sanction to your proposals, and I share in your belief that the transfer of the capital and the concomitant features of the scheme form a subject worthy of announcement by the King-Emperor in person on the unique and eagerly-anticipated occasion at Delhi. I am commanded to inform you that at the Durbar on the 12th of December His Imperial Majesty will be pleased to declare that Delhi will become the capital city of India, that a Governor in Council will be appointed for Bengal, a Lieutenant-Governor in Council for Behar, Chota Nagpur, and Orissa, and a Chief Commissioner for the Province of Assam.

I have the honour to be,

My Lord,

Your Lordship's most obedient, humble servant,

CREWE.

By the King-Emperor.

A ROYAL PROCLAMATION

For making known within His Majesty's Dominions the Celebration of the Solemnity of the Coronation of His Majesty.

GEORGE, R. I.

NOTIFICATION,

Delhi, the 19th December, 1911.

No. 252-C.—The following text of the speech of His Imperial Majesty the King-Emperor, as read at the Durbar, is published for general information:—

Speech of His Imperial Majesty the King-Emperor.

It is with genuine feeling of thankfulness and satisfaction that I stand here to-day among you. This year has been to the Queen-Empress and myself one of many great ceremonies and of an unusual though happy burden of toil. But in spite of time and distance, the grateful recollections of our last visit to India have drawn us again to the land which we then learned to love, and we started with bright hopes on our long journey to revisit the country in which we had already met the kindness of a home.

In doing so, I have fulfilled the wish expressed in my message of last July, to announce to you in person my Coronation, celebrated on the 22nd of June in Westminster Abbey, when, by the Grace of God, the Crown of my Forefathers was placed on my head with solemn form and ancient ceremony.

By my presence with the Queen-Empress I am also anxious to show our affection for the loyal Princes and faithful Peoples of India, and how dear to our hearts is the welfare and happiness of the Indian Empire.

It was, moreover, my desire that those who could not be present at the solemnity of the Coronation should have the opportunity of taking part in its commemoration at Delhi.

It is a sincere pleasure and gratification to myself and the Queen-Empress to behold this vast assemblage and in it my Governors and trusty officials, my great Princes, the representatives of the Peoples, and deputations from the Military Forces of my Indian Dominions.

I shall receive in person with heartfelt satisfaction the homage and allegiance which they loyally desire to render.

I am deeply impressed with the thought that a spirit of sympathy and affectionate goodwill unites Princes and people with me on this historic occasion.

In token of these sentiments I have decided to commemorate the event of my Coronation by certain marks of my especial favour and consideration, and these I will later on to-day cause to be announced by my Governor-General to this assembly.

Finally, I rejoice to have this opportunity of renewing in my own person those assurances which have been given you by my revered predecessors of the maintenance of your rights and privileges and of my earnest concern for your welfare, peace, and contentment.

May the Divine favour of Providence watch over my People and assist me in my utmost endeavour to promote their happiness and prosperity.

To all present, feudatories and subjects, I tender Our loving greeting.

To all to whom these presents may come—

By the command of His Most Excellent Majesty George the Fifth, by the Grace of God King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India, I, His Governor-General, do hereby declare and notify the grants, concessions, reliefs and benefactions, which His Imperial Majesty has been graciously pleased to bestow upon this glorious and memorable occasion.

Humbly and dutifully submissive to His Most Gracious Majesty's will and pleasure the Government of India have resolved, with the approval of His Imperial Majesty's Secretary of State, to acknowledge the predominant claims of educational advancement on the resources of the Indian Empire, and have decided, in recognition of a very commendable demand, to set themselves to making education in India as accessible and wide as possible. With this purpose they propose at once to devote 50 lakhs to the promotion of truly popular education and it is the firm intention of Government to add to the grant now annonuced further grants in future years on a generous scale.

Graciously recognising the signal and faithful services of His forces by land and sea, the King-Emperor has charged me to announce the award of half a month's pay of rank to all non-commissioned officers and men and reservists both of His British Army in India and of His Indian Army, to the equivalent ranks of the Royal Indian Marine, and to all permanent employés of departmental or non-combatant establishments paid from the military estimates, whose pay may not exceed the sum of fifty rupees monthly.

Furthermore, His Imperial Majesty has been graciously pleased to ordain that from henceforth the loyal Native officers, men and reservists of His Indian Army shall be eligible for the grant of the Victoria Cross for valour ;

That membership of the Order of British India shall be increased during the decade following this His Imperial Majesty's Coronation Durbar by fifty-two appointments in the first class, and by one hundred appointments in the second class, and that, in mark of these historic ceremonies, fifteen new appointments in the first class and nineteen new appointments in the second class shall forthwith be made;

That, from henceforth, Indian officers of the Frontier Militia Corps and the Military Police shall be deemed eligible for admission to the aforesaid Order ;

That special grants of land, or assignments, or remissions of land revenue, as the case may be, shall now be conferred on certain Native officers of His Imperial Majesty's Indian Army who may be distinguished for long and honourable service.

And that the special allowances now assigned for three years only to the widows of deceased members of the Indian Order of Merit shall, with effect from the date of this Durbar, hereafter be continued to all such widows until death or remarriage.

Graciously appreciating the devoted and successful labours of His Civil Services His Imperial Majesty has commanded me to declare the grant of half a month's pay to all permanent servants in the civil employ of Government whose pay may not exceed the sum of fifty rupees monthly.

Further, it is His Imperial Majesty's gracious behest that all persons to whom may have been, or hereafter may be, granted the titles of Dewan Bahadur, Sardar Bahadur, Khan Bahadur, Rai Bahadur, Rao Bahadur, Khan Sahib, Rai Sahib or Rao Sahib, shall receive distinctive badges as a symbol of respect and honour; and that on all holders present or to come of the venerable titles of Mahamahopadhyaya and Shams-ul-Ulama shall be conferred some annual pension for the good report of the ancient learning of India.

Moreover, in commemoration of this Durbar, and as a reward for conspicuous public service, certain grants of land, free of revenue, tenable for the life of the grantee, or in the discretion of the Local Administration for one further life, shall be bestowed or restored in the North-Western Frontier Province and in Baluchistan.

In his gracious solicitude for the welfare of His loyal Indian Princes, His Imperial Majesty has commanded me to proclaim that from henceforth no nazarana payments shall be made upon succession to their States. And sundry debts, owing to the Government by the non-jurisdictional estates in Kathiawar and Gujerat and also by the Bhumia Chiefs of Mewar, will be cancelled and remitted in whole or in part under the orders of the Government of India.

In token of His appreciation of the Imperial Service Troops, certain supernumerary appointments in the Order of British India will be made.

In the exercise of His Royal and Imperial clemency and compassion, His Most Excellent Majesty has been graciously pleased to ordain that certain prisoners, now suffering the penalty of the law for crimes and misdemeanours, shall be released from imprisonment, and that all those civil debtors now in prison, whose debts may be small and due not to fraud, but to real poverty, shall be discharged, and that their debts shall be paid.

The persons by whom and the terms and conditions on which these grants, concessions, reliefs and benefactions shall be enjoyed will be hereafter declared.

GOD SAVE THE KING-EMPEROR.

WRITERS' BUILDINGS, CALCUTTA, the 16th December 1911.

NOTICE.

Two junior Commercial or "C" classes will be opened in connection with the Government Commercial Institute, 303, Bowbazar Street, Calcutta. The first-year class will be opened from the middle of January 1912, and the second-year class will be formed in 1913.

One of the recommendations of the Education Commission was that in the upper classes of High Schools there should be two divisions, one teaching for the Entrance Examination of the University, the other of a more practical character. The course was to be alternative with the course which culminates in the Calcutta University Entrance (now Matriculation) Examination. The scheme, later on, for the bifurcation of studies in High Schools provided that there should be two courses alternative with the University Entrance course. These two courses are now called "B" and "C," and the Entrance course has since been known as the "A" course.

The "C" or the Commercial course is intended to prepare boys for commercial life. In rule No. 10 of the rules for the affiliation of Technical Schools to Collegiate, Zilla or High Schools in Bengal, sanctioned in Government letter No. 93T.G., dated the 10th May 1901, it was mentioned that the Bengal Chamber of Commerce had stated that a student who had passed the Final Examination at the end of the "C" course would be considered by it as equal, for the purposes of employment, to an Entrance (now Matriculation) passed student; while, it was laid down that the same examination would be considered by the Government as equivalent to the Entrance Examination.

A scholarship of Rs. 15 will be awarded to the candidate who stands first in order of merit at this "C" Final Examination, and the successful candidates will be eligible for admission into the advanced Commercial classes along with the Matriculates. The claims of those who will pass the Final Examination of the Advanced Commercial Classes will be more fully recognised by mercantile firms than has hitherto been the case. In their Notification No. 4122Mis., dated the 24th November 1911 (Calcutta Gazette, 29th November 1911), regarding the rules for regulation of appointments in the Clerical Service of the Secretariat of the Government of Bengal and certain other Government offices, the Government have declared that the candidates who have passed the Final Examination of the Advanced Commercial Classes would be admitted to the competitive Clerkship Examination (Lower Division), for which the Advanced Commercial Course syllabus has been generally adopted, along with those who have passed the Intermediate or any higher examination of an Indian University.

It is to be hoped that boys who do not want to take the Matriculation course, or for whom their parents do not forecast a University career or for whom the Matriculation course is obviously not suitable, will take up "C" course in the Government Commercial Institute.

For the students of these classes the following course of study is prescribed:—

Arithmetic and Algebra ...	With the second and first classes of a zilla school.
Geometry and Mensuration ...	Mensuration as in Elementary Mensuration for Indian Schools, by A. E. Pierpoint, Part I.
Modern English	No fixed text-book: boys to be exercised in translation, re-translation, dictation, grammar, parsing, etc. They should be required to write short essays and letters on easy subjects, and to reproduce in their own words stories which have been read to them.
History and Geography ...	The same text-book as that prescribed for the second and first classes of a zilla school.
Drawing and Practical Geometry	As in Harrison and Baxandall's Practical Plane and Solid Geometry, Chapters I to VII inclusive. Also Freehand-drawing from models.

The vernacular of the district.
Drill.

Students admitted to the present first-year class will be required to produce certificates signed by the Head Masters of schools testifying that they have studied for a year in the third class of their schools and have passed their annual examinations. The Principal of the Institute has the right to refuse admittance to any student who appears not to have made sufficient progress in the school.

The students will pay an admission fee of Rs. 3. The monthly tuition fee will be Rs. 3.

Applications for admission into the first-year class should reach the Principal, Government Commercial Institute, on or before the 15th January 1912.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL PROGRESS REPORT OF THE FOREST ADMINISTRATION IN THE PROVINCE OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1910-11.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—FORESTS.

Calcutta, the 14th December 1911.

RESOLUTION—No. 3510.

READ—

The Annual Progress Report of Forest Administration in the Province of Bengal for 1910-11.

Read also—

The corresponding report of the previous year and the resolution of Government thereon.

1. Mr. F. Trafford held charge of the circle up to the 14th November 1910, and Mr. C. E. Muriel for the rest of the year. The report which has been drawn up and submitted by the latter is both complete and interesting. The most important measure which engaged attention during the year was the reservation of certain protected forests with a view to ensure satisfactory management. In certain cases steps have already been taken to this end, while in others the proposals of the local officers are either still pending or have for various reasons been rejected. Some progress was made in forest settlements and also in the demarcation of boundaries. But under the latter head much remains to be done in protected forests. The Lieutenant-Governor in Council agrees with the Conservator of Forests that there can be no adequate protection where the areas are undefined, and that all possible efforts should be made to push on the work of demarcation where necessary.

2. Changes in Administration.—An Imperial Forest Officer has been deputed for 5 years, from the 4th November 1910, to the Feudatory States of Orissa. He works entirely under the Political Officer, and no details of his work have been incorporated in the present report. The management of the several divisions was generally good. In Singhbhum the work is heavy and a proposal to relieve the pressure by creating a thirteenth division as a minor charge was under consideration, but has been dropped. The Conservator is already much hampered by routine duties arising in connection with the administration of the existing twelve divisions; and any additional Forest Division would make the administrative conditions more difficult. A proposal is now before Government to reduce the Singhbhum charge by transferring certain forests to the Chaibassa Division, which would thus be enlarged and made into a major charge under an Imperial Forest Officer.

A much-needed improvement of the pay and prospects of the officers of the Provincial Forest Service has been secured by the introduction of the time scale of pay, with effect from the 1st March 1911. The pay of the ministerial establishment has also been improved.

3. Communications and buildings.—The work of opening out the forests by the construction of new lines of communication did not receive any great impetus during the year. The total length of new cart roads (32 miles) and of new bridle paths (37 miles) taken together was the same as in the previous year; and the expenditure incurred (Rs. 16,296) was nearly the same. Inclusive of repairs to existing roads and paths, the total expenditure under this head amounted to Rs. 33,610, as against Rs. 27,726 spent during the previous year. The question of constructing portable tramways suggested in the review of the Government of India on the report for the year 1909-10 has not yet been completely considered by the Conservator. Efforts should be made to render all parts of the reserves easy of access.

4. Protection from fire.—The clearance of external fire lines and the division of blocks of forest into smaller sections by internal fire lines received greater attention than in the previous year. The area over which fire protection was attempted during the year comprised 1,212,071 acres of reserved forests and 222,357 acres of protected forests The percentage of success, so far as the reserved forests are concerned, was over 98.

The Nepal side of the frontier fire line adjoining Darjeeling was not cleared last season, but steps for the annual clearing of that part of the fire line have since been taken by the Durbar. The arrangements on the boundaries between Native States and fire protected forests in Singhbhum, Puri and Angul are satisfactory, and the Lieutenant-Governor in Council takes this opportunity of acknowledging the assistance so given by the Chiefs of these States.

6. Protection from cattle and against injuries from natural causes.—The area open to grazing was about the same as in the previous year; but there was an increase in the number of cattle reported as impounded. The increase was chiefly in the Puri Division where a scarcity of fodder in the more open forests, caused by drought, resulted in the straying of cattle into the reserves closed to grazing. There was also a considerable increase in unauthorised grazing in the Tista Division, which is attributed to the large numbers of cattle kept by coolies employed on tea estates near the forest boundary of the Jaldhaka Range. In this Division several blocks under sâl regeneration will be closed to grazing from July 1912: at the same time the rates for fodder cut from the closed blocks will be reduced. In Angul damage to sâl poles in the forests frequented by herds of elephants is still considerable. It has been decided to continue the khedda operations in this district, steps being taken to effect ready sales of the elephants caught. The last season's khedda resulted in the capture of 26 elephants. Damage due to other causes is still considerable in many places, but protective measures are being taken as far as possible. No serious damage was caused by frost or storms.

7. Financial results.—The Angul, Darjeeling and Chaibassa Divisions are worked at a deficit; but, on the whole, from a financial and commercial point of view, the results of the year's working are satisfactory, although the net income amounted to Rs. 4,69,286, as against Rs. 5,13,787, the average of the preceding five years. There was a decrease in the total revenue from Rs. 11,27,230 in 1909-10 to Rs. 11,19,720 in the year under review. It was mainly under the head of timber and other produce removed by consumers or purchasers owing to the fact that sales were not effected in Angul and to shortage in sales in Puri. The balance of timber in stock amounted to 50,818 c.ft. as against 23,733 c.ft. at the close of the previous year. The total expenditure rose to Rs. 6,50,434 from Rs. 6,02,031 in the previous year; the quinquennial average was Rs. 6,34,848. The Lieutenant-Governor in Council observes with satisfaction that the increase in expenditure during the year under review occurred in connection with the extension, constitution, improvement and exploitation of the forests, while the administrative, executive and protective charges show a decrease.

8. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council are due to Messrs. Trafford and Muriel for their efficient administration of the department during the year.

ORDER—Ordered that this resolution be published in the Gazette, and that a copy of it with a copy of the report be submitted to the Government of India.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council,

J. G. CUMMING,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

THIRD REPORT ON THE COTTON CROPS OF BENGAL, DECEMBER 1911.

[On an average of the five years ending 1909-10 the area under the cotton crop in the territory to which this forecast relates represents about 0·3 per cent. of the total area under cotton in India.]

Explanatory.—The present forecast deals with the estimates of the area sown with cotton crops (both early and late) and also gives an estimate of their probable outturn.

Character of the season.—The early crop is most important in Ranchi, where it covers about half the total area under the crop in the Province. The less important districts are the Sonthal Parganas, Angul, Manbhum and Singhbhum. The weather conditions have been generally favourable in these districts and the prospects of the crop are, on the whole, good. The late crop is chiefly cultivated in North Bihar, Cuttack and Singhbhum. Fair progress has been made in sowings of the crop. Condition of the crop is reported to be fair to good. In parts of Patna and Darbhanga, however, the crop has been somewhat affected by excessive rain and floods.

Area sown.—The area sown with the early variety is now estimated at 60,137 acres as against 34,614 acres estimated last year. The area sown up to now with late cotton amounts to 30,037 acres. Last year's area under the crop was 33,388 acres. Sowings of the late crop have not yet begun in Cuttack.

Outturn.—The estimated outturn of early cotton (exclusive of Monghyr, for which no return has as yet been received) amounts to 11,200 bales against 7,288 bales of last year. The large difference is mainly due to the revision of figures for area in Ranchi in light of the recent survey figures. The outturn of late cotton has been returned at 9,200 bales against 10,426 bales, which was the estimate for last year. Adding to these estimates 5 per cent. for the crop grown in Native States, for which no statistics are recorded, the total early and late crop of this year works out to 11,760 bales and 9,660 bales respectively.

The 11th December 1911.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

MONTHLY WEATHER AND CROP REPORT OF BENGAL FOR THE MONTH OF NOVEMBER 1911.

Character of the season.—The rainfall was general over the Province during the month under report. The fall was in excess of the normal in Bihar and Chota Nagpur and in the districts of Birbhum, Bankura, Hooghly and Khulna. It was below the average in the rest of the Province. A statement showing the rainfall in different districts is appended.

II. Progress of agricultural operation.—Sowing of rabi crops continued. Harvesting of aman paddy commenced and was in progress during the month.

III. State of standing crops.—The standing crops were generally doing well. More rain was wanted for winter paddy in Cuttack and parts of Balasore during the first half of the month.

IV. Prospects and probable outturn of harvests.—The outturn of the bhadoi crops for the Province as a whole is estimated at 90 per cent. of the normal. Prospects of winter rice, the most important crop in the Province, are fair to good in most districts; and the outturn is estimated to be normal for the Province as a whole. Prospects of rabi crops are so far good.

V. Damage to crops.—Insects did some injury to standing crops in parts of Midnapore and to winter paddy in parts of Balasore and Sambalpur. Some damage was done to winter paddy which was ready for harvesting in Bankura, Palamau and Hazaribagh by rain received towards the close of the month.

VI. Condition of agricultural stock.—The condition of cattle was satisfactory. Cases of cattle-disease were reported from Bankura, Midnapore, Nadia, Patna, Champaran, Darbhanga, Monghyr, Bhagalpur, Purnea and from all the districts of Orissa and Chota Nagpur Divisions except Cuttack, Balasore and Singhbhum.

VII. Failure of pasturage and fodder.—The supply of fodder and water was sufficient throughout the Province except in parts of Nadia and Murshidabad, where insufficiency of fodder was reported.

VIII. Prices of food-grains.—During the second fortnight under review the price of rice rose in nine and fell in twelve districts. It varied from $8\frac{11}{16}$ seers a rupee in Hooghly to $16\frac{3}{4}$ seers in Angul.

IX. Condition of agricultural people.—The condition of agricultural people was, on the whole, satisfactory.

RULES, FORMS AND SCHEDULES

UNDER THE

ASSAM LABOUR AND EMIGRATION ACT, 1901

(VI of 1901).

CHAPTER I.

GENERAL RULES.

1. IN these rules :—

Definitions.

(1) "Emigrant" means a labourer, or a person engaged by a garden sardar, and entered in the prescribed register kept up by a Local Agent, employed by an Association, in the case where the garden-sadars, working under the control of such Association have been exempted from the requirements of sections 68 to 75 of the Act; or a dependant of any such person.

(2) "Intending emigrant" means a person who intends to be registered as a labourer, or to be engaged by a garden-sardar; or a dependant of any such person.

Inclusion of Schedules and Forms in the Rules.

2. The schedules and forms attached to these rules are prescribed for the several purposes specified in the heading of each, and shall be taken as part of the rules.

Application of the rules about the treatment and transport of emigrants to dependants.

3. The same provision in every respect shall be made for dependants as for emigrants and intending emigrants themselves and all rules regulating the treatment and transport of emigrants, or intending emigrants shall be applicable to their dependants also.

CHAP. II, PART I.

CHAPTER II.

RULES DEFINING AND REGULATING THE POWERS AND DUTIES OF OFFICERS UNDER THE ACT.

(As to what officers are vested with the various powers provided for in the Act, (see Notification No. 4[illegible], dated the 18th November 1911, Appendix A.)

PART I.—MAGISTRATES.

Powers and duties of Magistrates appointed under the Act.

4. The powers and duties of a Magistrate under the Act are as follows:—

(1) To supervise depôts. (Section 22.)

(2) To visit and inspect places of accommodation provided for intending emigrants collected by recruiters, when authorised to do so by the District or Subdivisional Magistrate. [Section 30 (2).]

(3) To visit and inspect accommodation provided by garden-sardars, when this duty is delegated by the District or Subdivisional Magistrate. [Section 62 (3).]

(4) To award compensation to emigrants, or to cancel contracts, in certain cases. (Section 81.)

(5) To order medical examination of any emigrant who appears unfit to travel to the labour-district; and to order the detention of such emigrant, if he is declared not to be in a fit state of health to undertake the journey (Sections 83 and 84.)

(6) To pass orders as to the payment of expenses of detention and return-journey in such cases. (Section 86.)

(7) To pass orders as to the cost of escort for a repatriated emigrant. (Section 89.)

(8) To take steps for the repatriation of emigrants wrongfully recruited; and to provide an escort or make other necessary arrangements. (Sections 161 and 162.)

Supervision by Magistrates of accommodation provided by licensed recruiters.

5. Every District or Subdivisional Magistrate, or other officer deputed by either, in conformity with the provisions of the Act, shall have, for the supervision, inspection, and regulation of any place of accommodation provided by a licensed recruiter, within the local limits of his jurisdiction, the same powers as are by the Act conferred on the Superintendent of Emigration in respect of contractors' depôts, and shall visit and inspect such places of accommodation periodically. Similar powers shall be exercised in the town of Calcutta by the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta.

Magistrates to report to the Superintendent of Emigration cases of misconduct.

6. It is the duty of every Magistrate to bring to the notice of the Superintendent of Emigration any case of misconduct on the part of any licensed contractor, sub-contractor, or recruiter, or of any Local Agent or garden-sardar, which may come to his knowledge.

Powers and duties of a District or Subdivisional Magistrate under the Act.

7. The powers and duties of a District or Subdivisional Magistrate under the Act, in addition to those in rule 4, are as follows:—

(1) To countersign recruiters' licenses. (Section 29.)

(2) To supervise, inspect, and regulate places of accommodation provided for intending emigrants collected by licensed recruiters; and to authorise Magistrates subordinate to him,

CHAP. II, PART I.

or officers of police above the rank of Sub-Inspector, to visit and inspect such places. (Section 30.)

(3) To cancel his countersignature on a recruiter's license, or to refuse such countersignature, subject in both cases to a report to the Superintendent of Emigration. (Section 31)

(4) To visit and inspect accommodation provided by garden-sardars; and to delegate this duty to subordinate Magistrates or to officers of police above the rank of Sub-Inspector. [Section 62(e) and (f).]

(5) To receive reports from specially employed garden-sardars. [Section 90(f).]

Countersignature by the District or Subdivisional Magistrate of recruiter's license.

8. A recruiter's license may be countersigned by the District or Subdivisional Magistrate without enquiry, if the contractor on whose behalf the recruiter is licensed, certifies that such recruiter is, to his knowledge, of good character and a native of the district in which he intends to work.

Powers of a District Magistrate under the Act

9. The powers and duties of a District Magistrate under the Act in addition to those stated in Rule 4 are as follows:—

(1) To countersign the certificates of garden-sardars. (Section 61.)

(2) To cancel garden-sardars' certificates in certain cases. (Section 63.)

(3) To cancel, by an order in writing, Local Agents' licenses in certain circumstances. (Section 67)

(4) To cancel the permit of any specially employed garden-sardar, for any reason to be recorded in writing, which he may think sufficient. [Section 90(i).]

District Magistrates to enforce the responsibility of Local Agents of Associations who have received special recruiting concessions.

10. In view of the relaxations of the provisions of Chapter IV of the Act granted to certain Associations of employers, and the consequent freedom from control enjoyed by the Local Agents of such Associations, it is necessary strictly to enforce the responsibility of such Local Agents for preventing abuses. District Magistrates should, under section 67 of the Act, cancel the license of any Local Agent who is found to be guilty of any serious breach of the law or rules, or to have connived at such on the part of his garden-sardars.

District Magistrates to report to Government malpractices on the part of Local Agents of privileged Associations.

11. Any malpractice on the part of a Local Agent of any Association should be brought to the notice of Government, without avoidable delay, in order that the Association may be warned, or that, in serious cases, the concessions, if any, granted to such Association may be withdrawn. In particular it is most important that Local Agents should have nothing to do with the engaging of labour, otherwise than through genuine garden-sardars sent down by their employers from the labour-districts.

Other duties of Magistrates.

12. The following rules contained in other Parts relate specially to the duties of Magistrates - Rules 53, 81, 104, 108, 110, 111, 112, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 125, 147, 150 and 154.

CHAP. II, PART II.

PART II.—SUPERINTENDENTS OF EMIGRATION.

Powers and duties of a Superintendent under the Act.

13. The powers and duties of a Superintendent of Emigration under the Act are as follows:—

(1) To grant licenses to be Contractors or Sub-contractors. (Section 14.)

(2) To cancel, in certain cases, any such license granted by him. [Sections 16 and 20 (2).]

(3) To inspect, approve, and supervise, and, in certain cases, to prohibit the use of, Contractors' depôts. (Section 22.)

(4) To grant licenses to be recruiters, if specially empowered. (Section 25.)

(5) To cancel in certain cases any such license granted by him (section 27.)

(6) To supervise the execution of labour-contracts by Contractors' emigrants. (Sections 44 and 45.)

(7) To see that medical certificates are produced in certain cases. (Section 46.)

(8) To cancel labour-contracts in certain cases, and to take steps for the return of emigrants to their homes, and for the payment of the expenses of such return. (Section 48.)

(9) To order the payment of compensation to emigrants for ill-treatment during the journey to the depôt. (Section 51.)

(10) To pass orders where a dependant of an emigrant is not in a fit state of health to undertake the journey to the labour-districts. (Sections 52 and 53.)

(11) To grant certificates to persons accompanying Contractors' emigrants during their journey to the place where they are to labour; and to cancel such certificates for sufficient reasons. (Section 55.)

(12) To grant licenses to be Local Agents, if specially empowered. (Section 64.)

(13) To grant licenses to be Selecting Agents, if specially empowered. (Section 65.)

(14) To cancel licenses of Selecting Agents in certain cases. (Section 65.)

(15) To cancel labour-contracts on the motion of a Local Agent or other representative of the employer. (Section 87.)

(16) To cancel the contracts of relatives of an emigrant whose own contract has been cancelled. (Section 88.)

Supervision of depôts by Superintendents.

14. The Superintendent of Emigration shall regularly visit every depôt in which emigrants are being accommodated, and shall see that the provisions of the Act are fully carried out in the case of all emigrants arriving at such depôt, and that the terms of their engagements to work in the labour districts are thoroughly understood by them.

Execution of labour-contract by employer or his agent; knowledge and acceptance of terms by labourers; thumb-impressions of labourers on contracts.

15. The Superintendent of Emigration, when placing persons on contract as labourers, shall invariably satisfy himself that the employer or his agent has affixed his signature to all the contract papers, and that the emigrants thoroughly understand and accept the terms and conditions of the contract they are executing. An abstract of every such contract shall be kept by the Superintendent in the prescribed form (No. 23). In addition to entering the descriptive marks in the form attached to the "Form of Labour Contract between Labourer and Employer", prescribed under section 5 of the Act, an impression shall be taken of each emigrant's left thumb, as a further means of identification. The impression shall be taken in printer's ink, off a flat piece of tin properly prepared for the purpose, and transferred to both copies of the contract and to the Register of Emigrants' Contracts (Form No 23).

Procedure to be followed in licensing Contractors.

16. With a view to avoiding the grant to unsuitable persons of licenses to be Contractors, the Superintendent should, before granting a license to any person to be a Contractor, consult the Magistrates of the principal recruiting districts as to whether there is any objection to the grant of such license, unless he is personally acquainted with the previous history of the applicant

Grant of licenses to recruiters acceptance of certificates of recruiter's character given by Contractors.

17. The Superintendent of Emigration should, unless there is special reason to the contrary, grant licenses to be recruiters, without enquiry, where the Contractor, who applies for the license, certifies that the intending recruiter is, to his knowledge, of good character and a native of the district in which he intends to work.

Cancellation of Contractor's license for giving a false certificate of a recruiter's character

18. Where the Superintendent finds that any certificate presented by a Contractor to him under the preceding rule, or to the District or Subdivisional Magistrate under rule 8 of Part I, is false or incorrect, he should enforce the liability of such Contractor to have his license cancelled under section 16(1) of the Act Similarly the Superintendent should enforce the provisions of section 20(2) where a recruiter, whose character has been certified by a Contractor, renders himself liable to the cancelment of his license.

Licensing of Local Agents of approved Associations of employers.

19. The Superintendent shall grant a license to any person to be a Local Agent on the application of an Association of employers, in the case of whose sardars the requirements of Chapter IV of the Act have been relaxed, unless there is good reason to believe the person concerned to be unsuitable.

Persons having any interest or connection with Contractor's business not to be licensed as Local Agents.

20 No person should be licensed to be a Local Agent who is reasonably suspected to have any present interest in recruitment under Chapter III, or any connection with any Contractor, or with recruiters licensed or otherwise The essence of the sardar system is that labour should be engaged only through genuine garden-sardars, and this cannot be too strongly insisted on.

Other duties of a Superintendent.

21. The following rules contained in other parts, relate specially to the duties of Superintendents of Emigration—rules 36, 37, 38, 39, 41, 43, 45, 47, 52, 53, 55, 56, 61, 62, 63, 64, 66, 69, 79, 93, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 124 and 126.

PART III.- REGISTERING OFFICERS.

Powers and duties of a Registering Officer under the Act

22. The powers and duties of a Registering Officer under the Act are as follows:—

(1) To examine and register emigrants brought before him by recruiters (Section 34.)

(2) To report his refusal, where he refuses to register any person, to the District or Subdivisional Magistrate or other officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf. (Section 35.)

CHAP. II, PART III.

(3) To furnish to every person registered a copy of the registration particulars. (Section 36.)

(4) To forward a copy of the registration particulars to the Superintendent of Emigration having jurisdiction over the depôt to which the person registered is to proceed. (Section 37.)

(5) To give directions to the recruiter as to the conveyance of the emigrants to the depôt after registration; to approve the person who is deputed to accompany any emigrant to the depôt; and to give a certificate to every person so deputed. (Section 40.)

(6) To examine and register emigrants engaged by garden-sardars. (Section 69).

(7) To supervise the execution of labour-contracts by such emigrants. (Section 72.)

(8) To see that medical certificates are produced in certain cases. (Section 73.)

Particulars to be registered by Registering Officer in respect of emigrants recruited on behalf of Contractors

23. In registering intending emigrants the Registering Officer shall record all the prescribed particulars in Form No. 9 in respect of those recruited on behalf of Contractors, and in Form No. 10 in the case of those engaged by garden-sardars. As a means of identification, an impression shall be taken of each emigrant's left thumb. The impression shall be taken in printer's ink off a flat piece of tin properly prepared for the purpose, and, in the case of an emigrant recruited under Chapter III, the impression shall also be transferred to the certified copies of the registration particulars, one of which is given to such emigrant, and the other sent to the Superintendent of Emigration concerned.

Registering Officer to specify the depôt to which intending emigrants recruited on behalf of Contractors are to be conveyed.

24. In the case of emigrants registered on behalf of Contractors, the Registering Officer shall invariably specify the depôt to which each is to be conveyed. (Section 40.)

Registering Officer to satisfy himself that the contracts of emigrants engaged under Chapter IV of the Act have been signed by the employer or his agent and that the terms of the contract are understood by the emigrants. Abstract of labour-contracts.

25. The Registering Officer, when supervising the execution of contracts by emigrants engaged under Chapter IV of the Act, shall invariably satisfy himself that the employer or his agent has affixed his signature to all the contract papers, and that the emigrants thoroughly understand and accept the terms and conditions of the contract they are executing. An abstract of every such contract shall be entered in a register to be kept by the Registering Officer in the prescribed Form No. 10.

CHAP. II, PART III.

26. In addition to entering the descriptive marks attached to the form of labour-contract prescribed under section 5 of the Act, an impression shall be taken of each emigrant's left thumb, in the manner indicated in rule 23. It shall be transferred to both copies of the contract, and to the Register of Labour Contracts (Form No 10).

Thumb impression of labourers to be taken in the contracts.

27. Although it has been found necessary, in order that delays may be avoided, that a number of officers should be empowered to perform the duties of a Registering Officer this fact does not relieve District Officers from responsibility for the proper carrying out of the work of registering emigrants within the limits of their respective districts. The work should not, except for urgent reasons, be made over to any officer who is not directly subordinate to the District Officers, and should be closely supervised; for it is at the registration stage that abuses are most likely to be detected. Subdivisional Officers should, except when unavoidably prevented, do this work themselves.

Responsibility of District Officers for the proper carrying out of the work of registering emigrants.

28. It is the duty of Registering Officers to secure, by every means in their power, that every emigrant shall be registered in the district in which he has actually been recruited. The orders of Government on this point are emphatic, and have been often repeated

Registration of emigrants in the district of recruitment.

NOTE.—(1) Government of India's No 4079, dated 4th December 1901 "Sections 33 and 34 of the Act should be so worked that registration shall, wherever practicable, be effected within the district of recruitment, or an adjoining, district and not at a central station or depôt."

(2) Bengal Government order No. 2601—2605, dated 22nd July 1901. "It has lately come to the notice of Government that certain persons, ostensibly working under section 92 of Act VI of 1901 have not despatched their coolies so recruited by them direct to Assam, but have sent them to duly licensed recruiters in other districts The latter, it appeared, treated these coolies, as if they had really been recruited by them, and proceeded to have the coolies registered and put under contract.

"2 I am directed to point out that this practice is contrary to the Act, and would, if unchecked, completely prevent the carrying out of one of the chief objects for which the Act was passed, viz, to ensure that the initial registration of a coolie should be effected near his home

"3. Licensed recruiters, who receive their licenses because they are persons 'fitted by character to be employed in engaging labourers' must communicate direct with the coolie 'from the first' without the intervention of any third person. They are not prohibited from recruiting within their local area coolies residing elsewhere who come there of their own accord, but they are not permitted to employ others to bring coolies to them from other local areas If they make use of such assistance, they act in contravention of their license, and commit an offence punishable under section 164 of the Act. Their licenses can also be cancelled under section 31(1) of the Act.

"4 Registering officers, when coolies not belonging to the local area for which the recruiter is licensed or regarding whom a doubt on this point exists, are brought before them for registration, should be most careful to satisfy themselves that such coolies have been properly recruited, and that no intermediary has been used by the recruiter who presents them for registration This may involve the temporary detention of such coolies, but it is essential that everything should be done to prevent the growth of the practice above alluded to.

"5. It will be advisable for you to warn all the recruiters whom you may have licensed, and others at the time their licenses are issued to them Contractors should also be warned. If they authorise their recruiters to act in the illegal way here noticed, their licenses may be cancelled under section 16(1). It is desirable not to institute prosecutions in the first instance, but if, after the warnings have fully circulated, coolies thus irregularly collected are brought before the Registering Officers, the recruiters should not only have their licenses cancelled, but should also be prosecuted, and the licenses of the contractors employing them should also be cancelled."

(3) Bengal Government order No 505T G, dated 18th May 1903. "It has lately been brought to the notice of Government that several persons belonging to distant districts have been registered as emigrants under Act VI of 1901, and placed on contract in Calcutta This is contrary to the spirit of the Act, and I am to invite your careful attention to the orders conveyed in Government order No. 2601 2605, dated 22nd July 1901, which were issued in order to ensure the carrying out of one of the chief objects for which Act VI of 1901 was passed viz., that the initial registration of an emigrant should be effected near his home"

CHAP. II, PART IV.

2. In recalling to you the instructions above referred to, I am to explain that, if it appears that an intending emigrant has been resident in the district of recruitment for some time before he is presented for registration, there will be prima facie no ground for suspecting that any improper procedure has been adopted in connection with his recruitment, but that if, on the other hand it appears that an intending emigrant has recently arrived in such district, a presumption will ordinarily arise that his recruitment has not been legitimately effected, and careful enquiry will be necessary.

(4) Bengal Government order No. 3155-58, dated 18th July 1908. "It has been brought to the notice of the Government that, in spite of the prohibition of recruitment under Chapter III of Act VI of 1901 in the Sonthal Parganas by Notification No. 3295T.-G., dated the 1st November 1907, emigrants belonging to that district are being sent to Assam by licensed contractors working in non-prohibited areas, on the plea that the emigrants come to them from their homes of their own accord in search of work. I am to request that the attention of all officers registering emigrants under the Act in your Division may be drawn to the instructions contained in Government Circulars No. 41, dated the 22nd July 1901, and No. 5T.-G., dated 18th May 1903, with respect to the initial registration of emigrants near their homes. Registering Officers should, when coolies belonging to areas outside their jurisdiction are produced before them for registration under section 34, be most careful to satisfy themselves that such coolies have not been smuggled from a prohibited tract, and that they have been properly recruited within the local area for which the recruiter by whom they are presented for registration, is licensed."

Other duties of Registering Officers.

29. The following rules, contained in other Parts, relate specially to the duties of Registering Officers—Rules 38, 50 and 124.

PART IV.—MEDICAL INSPECTORS.

Powers and duties of Medical Inspectors under the Act.

30. The powers and duties of a Medical Inspector under the Act are as follows:—

(1) To inspect and approve depots. (Section 22).

(2) To direct the transfer of emigrants from depôts to hospital depôts [Section 24(3).]

(3) To examine labourers and dependants, as soon as may be, after their arrival at a depôt, and to give a certificate as to their fitness to undertake the journey to the labour-district. (Section 43.)

(4) To certify to the Superintendent the unfitness of any dependant of a labourer to undertake the journey to the labour district. (Section 52.)

Supervision of depôts by Medical Inspectors, vaccination of emigrants, submission of a monthly inspections report to Superintendent.

31. The sanitary state of Contractors' depôts shall be the special care of the Medical Inspector. He shall visit the depôts regularly, and see that all necessary precautions are taken against communicable disease; that the hospital and other medical arrangements at the depôts are sufficient; that all emigrants unprotected against smallpox are properly vaccinated; and that the depôt arrangements generally for the keep and health of emigrants are satisfactory from a medical point of view.

Subordination of Medical Inspectors to Civil Surgeons.

32. Every Medical Inspector, other than the Civil Surgeon of a district, except the Medical Inspector of Emigrants, Calcutta, shall be subordinate, in all matters connected with his duties as such Inspector, to the Civil Surgeon of the district to which he is appointed.

Other duties of Medical Inspectors.

33. The following rules, contained in other Parts, relate specially to the duties of Medical Inspectors:—Rules 38, 52, 53, 55, 62, 79, 81, 83, 85, 92, 93, 97, 98, 101, 151 and 154.

CHAP. II, PARTS V & VI.

PART V.—MEDICAL OFFICERS.

34. The powers and duties of a Medical Officer under the Act are as follows:— Powers and duties o Medical officers.

(1) To examine intending labourers produced by recruiters, and if a labourer is fit to proceed to the labour-district, to give him a certificate to that effect. (Section 32.)

(2) To examine labourers about to execute labour-contracts and to certify their fitness for labour in the labour-district, where the employer desires such a certificate. (Section 47.)

(3) To examine labourers engaged by garden-sardars where the employer of the sardar desires such examination. (Section 74.)

35. The Medical Examiner's certificate provided for in section 32 shall be in Form No. 8, and the certificate provided for in sections 73, and 74 shall be in form No. 12. Medical Examination under section 32.

PART VI.—GOVERNMENT OFFICERS GENERALLY.

36. Every Government Officer administering any of the provisions of Act VI of 1901 shall, in the absence of definite orders to the contrary, act under the general instructions of the Superintendent of Emigration appointed for the local area in which such officer is working. All the orders of Government will be transmitted through the Superintendent, and all reports and returns shall be made through the Superintendent, who will correspond direct with Government. Subordination of Officers.

37. Every officer inspecting a depôt or place of accommodation shall record the result of his inspection in the Visitors' Book kept for the purpose, and, if he is not himself the Superintendent of Emigration, shall forward a copy of his inspection note to the Superintendent. Inspection note of officers.

38. Every Medical Inspector of Emigrants and Assistant Superintendent of Emigration shall forward to the Superintendent of Emigration to whom he is subordinate, not later than the 20th July, an annual report reviewing the operations of the year from the 1st of July to the 30th of June, connected with the accommodation, health of emigrants and sanitary arrangements in depôts, places of accommodation and rest-houses, and also the transport of emigrants and intending emigrants within his local area. Submission of Annual Reports

Every Registering officer shall, by the same date and for the same period, forward to the Superintendent of Emigration, having jurisdiction over his district, a similar report dealing with the recruitment and registration operations carried on within the local area of his jurisdiction.

Every Superintendent of Emigration (except the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta) shall, not later than the 31st of July, furnish to the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, statistics relating to the recruiting operations carried on in the area for which he has been appointed, for the year ending 30th June. He shall also submit to the Government of Bengal, through the Commissioner of the Division, his annual report for the same period and the same area.

CHAP. II, PART VII.

3. (a) Government reserves to itself the right to alter the quantity and class of opium to be offered for sale in each month. No reduction in the quantities to be sold, however, will be made without three months' previous notice.

(b) The chests sold for China will be marked in a distinguishing manner and covered by a special permit to be granted by Government.

(c) All chests of certified opium sold for export to China must be shipped from Calcutta, on or before the 15th of December 1912, and if they are not so shipped, the option will be cancelled, and permits for their export to China will not be given either in 1912 or at any future time.

The following are the conditions of sale. The Board of Revenue reserves to itself the right of altering all or any of these conditions after giving three months' previous notice:—

1. The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2. The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3. The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M., but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4. Each lot shall contain five chests.

5. A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale, noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this office by Bank of Bengal receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M., in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.

When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.

On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.

And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional to the extent of Rs. 400.

6. The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7. The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M., if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8. No tender of money, Bank of Bengal receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9. The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and, in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10. Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests ordinarily required to be included in each certificate or order.

11. No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12. The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand render at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal receipts, or Government securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions

13. With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually by Rs. 5 at a time until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot, after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described, shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14. The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether fifteen lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said fifteen.

15. In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16. The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue:—

No. 1—Certificate of the opium advertised for sale;

No. 2—Report of the examination of such opium.

17. The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazipur Factory for the year 1910-11, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug, when packed at the Patna and Ghazipur Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue.

18. Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the office of the Board of Revenue But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.,

W. A. MARR,
Secretary.

If more than one vessel is used for the same purpose, each must be distinguished by a progressive number.

(2) Before the license to brew is granted an Excise officer authorised by the Commissioner will inspect the premises, etc., compare the same with the particulars stated in the aforesaid written description, and certify accordingly. The license will be granted by the Collector with the sanction of the Commissioner of Excise, if the description be found satisfactory and the applicant be considered a fit person to receive a license.

Vessels.

2. Mash tuns, underbacks, wort receivers, coppers and collecting and fermenting vessels must be so placed and fixed that the contents can be accurately gauged or measured.

3. (1) The name and number of each vessel must be legibly painted in oil colour on some conspicuous part thereof, according to the purpose for which it is intended to be used.

(2) The brewer must not alter the shape, position or capacity of any vessel without giving two days' previous notice in writing to the Excise officer.

Brewing book.

4. The Excise officer authorised by the Commissioner will deliver to every brewer a book in which the brewer must enter in the proper columns at least twenty-four hours before beginning to mash any malt, etc., or to dissolve any sugar, the day and hour of brewing with the date of making the entry, and at least two hours before the time entered for mashing or dissolving, he must enter separately the quantity of malt and unmalted corn, rice, rice grits, flaked rice, maize grits, flaked maize and other similar preparations and of sugar to be used, and the hour when all the worts will be drawn off the grains in the mash tun.

5. The brewer shall also enter in the same book the quantity and specific gravity before fermentation of the worts collected, the number and description of the vessel or vessels in which the worts were collected and the date and hour when the entry is made. Such entry must be made within one hour after the collection has been completed.

6. The brewer must enter the true original gravity of the worts, and he must keep the book on the premises entered in the description referred to in rule 1 at all times accessible to the officer and ready for his inspection.

7. The brewing book is the property of the Government.

8. The brewer must not cancel, obliterate or alter any entry or make an entry, which is untrue in any particular.

Mode of working.

9. All worts shall be removed successively and in the customary order of brewing to the underback, coppers, coolers and collecting or fermenting vessels, and shall not be removed from the last-named vessels, until an account shall have been taken by the officer, or until after the expiration of twelve hours from the time at which the worts are collected.

11. The total produce of a brewing shall be kept separate from the produce of any other brewing for sixteen hours, unless an account of such total produce has been taken by the officer.

12. No produce of any brewing must be mixed with that of any other brewing except in the store vats or casks unless the brewer has given previous notice in writing in the brewing book, and specifies in writing the quantity and gravity of the worts when mixed.

Scales and weights.

13. Every brewer must provide and maintain just scales and weights and render assistance to any inspecting officer in taking account.

Wastage.

14. An allowance of ten per cent. shall be made from the monthly total of the charges on account of wastage.

Allowance for sour or spoilt beer.

15. Written application must be made to the Collector for an allowance for sour or spoilt beer.

16. There must be satisfactory evidence to enable the Collector to decide whether the beer can be identified with its proper brewing, subject to the following rules. If he is satisfied on this point he will sanction the destruction of the beer in an officer's presence.

17. The brewer must sign a declaration that the beer was brewed by him and had never left his premises, and that no part of it consists of "bottoms" or 'returns" from vendors or other customers.

18. Representative samples must be taken and sent to such laboratory as the Commissioner may decide upon.

19. The officer must state the means by which he checked the bulk quantity, and after samples have been taken as aforesaid he must witness the destruction of the beer and record a note of the fact in the brewing book.

20. On receipt of a satisfactory report from the laboratory, the brewer may be credited with the proper amount of duty.

Materials.

21. The Commissioner may prohibit the use of any material in the manufacture of beer which is, in his opinion, of a deleterious nature.

NOTICE

Two junior Commercial or "C" classes will be opened in connection with the Government Commercial Institute, 303, Bowbazar Street, Calcutta. The first-year class will be opened from the middle of January 1912, and the second-year class will be formed in 1913.

One of the recommendations of the Education Commission was that in the upper classes of High Schools there should be two divisions, one teaching for the Entrance Examination of the University, the other of a more practical character. The course was to be alternative with the course which culminates in the Calcutta University Entrance (now Matriculation) Examination. The scheme, later on, for the bifurcation of studies in High Schools provided that there should be two courses alternative with the University Entrance course. These two courses are now called "B" and "C," and the Entrance course has since been known as the "A" course.

The "C" or the Commercial course is intended to prepare boys for commercial life. In rule No. 10 of the rules for the affiliation of Technical Schools to Collegiate, Zilla or High Schools in Bengal, sanctioned in Government letter No 95T G., dated the 10th May 190., it was mentioned that the Bengal Chamber of Commerce had stated that a student who had passed the Final Examination at the end of the "C" course would be considered by it as equal, for the purposes of employment, to an Entrance (now Matriculation) passed student; while, it was laid down that the same examination would be considered by the Government as equivalent to the Entrance examination

A scholarship of Rs 15 will be awarded to the candidate who stands first in order of merit at this "C" Final Examination, and the successful candidates will be eligible for admission into the advanced Commercial classes along with the Matriculates The claims of those who will pass the Final Examination of the Advanced Commercial Classes will be more fully recognised by mercantile firms than has hitherto been the case. In their Notification No. 4122Mis., dated the 24th November 1911 (Calcutta Gazette, 29th November 1911), regarding the rules for regulation of appointments in the Clerical Service of the Secretariat of the Government of Bengal and certain other Government offices, the Government have declared that the candidates who have passed the Final Examination of the Advanced Commercial Classes would be admitted to the competitive Clerkship Examination (Lower Division), for which the Advanced Commercial Course syllabus has been generally adopted, along with those who have passed the Intermediate or any higher examination of an Indian University.

It is to be hoped that boys who do not want to take the Matriculation course, or for whom their parents do not forecast a University career or for whom the Matriculation course is obviously not suitable, will take up "C" course in the Government Commercial Institute.

For the students of these classes the following course of study is prescribed:—

Arithmetic and Algebra ...	With the second and first classes of a zilla school.
Geometry and Mensuration ...	Mensuration as in Elementary Mensuration for Indian Schools, by A. E. Pierpoint. Part I.
Modern English	No fixed text-book: boys to be exercised in translation, re-translation, dictation, grammar, parsing, etc They should be required to write short essays and letters on easy subjects, and to reproduce in their own words stories which have been read to them.
History and Geography ...	The same text-book as that prescribed for the second and first classes of a zilla school.
Drawing and Practical Geometry	As in Harrison and Baxandall's Practical Plane and Solid Geometry, Chapters I to VII inclusive. Also Freehand-drawing from models.

The vernacular of the district.
Drill.

Students admitted to the present first-year class will be required to produce certificates signed by the Head Masters of schools testifying that they have studied for a year in the third class of their schools and have passed their annual examinations. The Principal of the Institute has the right to refuse admittance to any student who appears not to have made sufficient progress in the school

The students will pay an admission fee of Rs. 3. The monthly tuition fee will be Rs. 3.

Applications for admission into the first-year class should reach the Principal, Government Commercial Institute, on or before the 15th January 1912.

FIRST FORECAST OF THE SPRING OILSEED CROPS OF BENGAL, 1911-12.

[On an average of the five years ending 1909-10 the area under linseed, rape and mustard in the territory to which this forecast relates represents about 23·4 and 12·4 per cent. of the total area under these crops in British India.]

Explanatory.—Of the three forecasts issued of the spring oilseed crops, the first deals only with the areas sown and the general condition of the crops.

Area sown.—Oilseeds are chiefly grown in Bihar and in the Presidency and Chota Nagpur Divisions. The total area sown up to now this year (til excepted) is estimated at 2,181,500 acres. Last year's area was estimated at 2,080,900 acres. The increase is due to favourable weather during the sowing season.

Character of the season and the general condition of the crops.—The rainfall in September and October was general and sufficient for sowings of the crops in normal time. Sowings were somewhat late in parts of Burdwan, Midnapore, Hooghly, the 24-Parganas, Nadia, Murshidabad, Jessore, Darbhanga, Purnea and Darjeeling. The rainfall in November was general over the Province, the fall being in excess of the normal in Bihar and in Chota Nagpur, but below normal in Orissa and most districts of Lower Bengal. The season has been favourable so far for the growth of the crops. The present condition of the crops is reported to be good in most districts.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FIRST FORECAST OF THE WHEAT CROP OF BENGAL, 1911-12.

[On an average of the five years ending 1909 10 the area under wheat in the territory to which this forecast relates represents about 4·7 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India.

The ratio of the irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage, (a) in British India and (b) in the territory now reported on, has, in the five years ending 1909-10, averaged (a) 40·8 per cent. and (b) 14·3 per cent., respectively.]

Explanatory.—Three forecasts of the wheat crop are published. The first forecast deals only with the area sown and the general character of the crop.

Area sown.—The crop is cultivated chiefly in Bihar and also in Nadia, Murshidabad, Hazaribagh and Palamau. The area sown to date this year is reported to be 1,263,700 acres. Last year's area under the crop was 1,382,500 acres. Sowings are reported to be still incomplete in Nadia and Purnea.

Character of the season and condition of the crop.—The rainfall in September and October was general and sufficient for sowings of the crop in normal time. Sowings were somewhat late in parts of Saran, Champaran and Darbhanga on account of the heavy rainfall in the sowing season. The rainfall in November was general over the province, the fall being in excess of the normal in Bihar and especially in Chota Nagpur, but below normal in Orissa and most districts of Lower Bengal. The season has been favourable so far for the growth of the crop. The present condition of the crop is reported to be good in most districts.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FINAL FORECAST OF THE INDIGO CROP OF BENGAL, 1911.

[On an average of the five years ending 1909-10, the area under indigo in the territory to which this forecast relates represents about 37·9 per cent of the total area under indigo in British India.]

Explanatory.—With the exception of a few acres in Nadia, indigo is cultivated only in the Bihar districts, chiefly in North Bihar and Purnea.

Character of the season.—Sowings began at the normal time. In the early part of the season weather conditions were generally favourable. The defective rainfall in July and excessive rainfall in August considerably affected the outturn from second cuttings in the important district of North Bihar. Damage was caused by insects in Champaran and Muzaffarpur.

Area sown.—The area sown this year is estimated at 110,600 acres against 117,000 acres, the revised figures for last year.

Outturn.—In the important districts the percentage outturn of the crop has been reported as follows :—

	Per cent.
Champaran	106
Saran	100
Muzaffarpur	86
Darbhanga	74
Purnea	67
Monghyr	62

The outturn of the crop in North Bihar and Monghyr works out to 93 per cent. and in other minor districts in Bihar and Bengal to 72 per cent. The estimate for the whole Province is 90 per cent. of a normal crop. According to the District Officers' estimate the total yield of the crop for the Province as a whole works out to 26,752 factory maunds against 20,686 factory maunds of last year.

According to the estimate of Messrs. Moran and Company, the outturn of the indigo crop this year is 24,000 factory maunds.
